BRUTAL OUTLAWS MURDER MEMBERS OF MOTOR PARTY

Woman and Three Officers Shot in Cold Blood at County Galway Residence—Threat to Burn House in Case of Reprisals—Determined Attacks on Cork Prison.

OTHER MURDERS OF CONSTABLES AND REPRISALS ARE REPORTED

DUBLIN, May 16.—Four persons, one a woman, were killed in County Galway last night by men lying in ambush at Ballyturn.

Those killed were District Inspector Blake and Mrs. Blake, Captain Cornwallis, a son of Col. F. S. Cornwallis, in whose automobile the party was riding, and Lieut. McCreary. Mrs. Gregory, the only other person in the car, was not injured.

The party had been playing tennis at the residence of Magistrate Bagot, of Ballyturn House, and were returning home to Gort.

Reaching the end of the avenue leading to Ballyturn House and finding the gate closed, Capt. Cornwallis got out to open the gate. Shots immediately were fired from the shrubbery and he fell dead.

Armed masked men, said to have numbered about forty, then surrounded the car and ordered the women to leave.

Mrs. Blake refused, saying she would die by the side of her husband. Mrs. Gregory was led away.

Shortly afterwards the four bodies were found near the gate.

After the shooting several men went to Ballyturn House and handed in a notice threatening to burn the house if there were reprisals. Military and police reinforcements were sent to the scene and were fired on, and one constable was seriously wounded.

Lieut. McCreary was only 19 years old. Mrs. Gregory is a daughter-in-law of Lady Augusta Gregory, the Irish playwright.

CITY DECIDES YEAR'S OUTLAYS

Education Heads All Items With Appropriation of $562,000, With Debt Running Close Second

The City Council last night put through its initial reading the Annual Expenditure By-law, setting forth the amounts provided for the year's outlay, aggregating $3,290,686.92. The total is about $120,000 more than last year.

The city debt makes up nearly one-quarter of the total, or $517,537, but the biggest single item is for education, which will cost the city approximately $562,000, if all the money asked for that purpose is spent.

The Works Department, which includes maintenance of streets, parks, sewer construction and other expenditures controlled by the City Engineer's Department, will require $396,529 this year, and $278,757 will go to the Waterworks Department, revenue amounting to about $300,000 is expected from the Waterworks Department, as compared with about $350,000 last year. The increase in the rates is expected to offset the difference.

The Board of Health has been appropriated $42,614. The legal department's outlay will be somewhat larger than last year owing to increased pressure of litigation. The figure set is $20,670. Civic salaries have been held down to $41,918. Civic institutions show a slight increase, with $405,839. Under this head are included the police and fire departments, library and similar institutions. The Municipal Council remains stationary with $7,000. Three thousand five hundred dollars has been fixed for buildings, and for miscellaneous items, not tabulated, $114,550.

The Civic Employees' Protective Association submitted to the Council the following requests last night. They were referred to the Conciliation Committee:

1—That the boulevard and parks foremen be placed on the monthly payroll, and given the privileges of other municipal employees, and that the boulevard foremen be given a reasonable amount for transportation.

2—That the men employed in the cemetery, being monthly men, be allowed the same privileges in regard to annual holidays as other monthly employees.

3—That one week's annual holiday be granted to all regular employees who are paid by the day and have been employed by the city for one year or more.

Vancouver Assizes

VANCOUVER, May 16.—When the Assize Court convened this morning Mr. Justice Morrison announced that for the next few days he would be the presiding judge instead of Mr. Justice Macdonald, who was unable to attend. His Lordship also said he had not yet an opportunity of looking through the cases which remain to be presented to the Grand Jury.

Calgary Passenger Drowned

MONTREAL, May 16.—The steamer Megantic, on arrival here today, reported the disappearance of a second cabin passenger, G. H. Turner, who, with his brother John, was en route to his home in Calgary. The missing man left his brother and another passenger in the smoking-room about 10:30 the first night at sea, and that was the last seen of him.

Arrests in London

LONDON, May 16.—Three arrests have been made by the police in connection with Saturday night's attack on residences in London and its suburbs, which relatives of members of the Royal Irish Constabulary attribute to a Sinn Fein campaign to terrorize London.

A number of houses and other buildings were fired, and three persons were wounded, one probably mortally.

Attack on Cork Prison

CORK, May 16.—An attack was made on the Cork prison at midnight Sunday. It took the form of attempts to snipe the guard, the efforts lasting for more than an hour. The guard replied with machine gun fire, and sent up lights, which brought a strong military force from the barracks, and the attacking party was dispersed.

This was the third attack on the jail within two months.

Several Fatalities

DUBLIN, May 16.—Attacks on the police and military occurred last night and today. A constable was killed and a sergeant and another constable were wounded as they were leaving a church in Dansha last night.

A bomb was thrown at a military lorry in crowded Frederick Street here today. In the shooting which followed four civilians were wounded.

Military reports say three prisoners attempted to escape from an escort at Carrantuohill, County Kerry, Sunday. Two were shot and killed and the other wounded.

The escort was fired at from a house, which they bombed. The occupants of the house while running away were fired on and the owner was killed.

Because occupants of the houses were alleged to be active supporters of the republicans, the military destroyed several residences in the Tipperary and Cashel districts. One hour was permitted for the removal of foodstuffs. Occupants were not permitted to take out the furniture.

Since the attempted release of Arthur Griffith from Mount Joy prison, no visitors are permitted.

Record Number of Deaths

DUBLIN, May 16.—Reports of ambuscades and other attacks on the military, police and civilians Saturday and Sunday, show there were thirty-four deaths from violence, this being the highest recorded for any similar period.

NEWFOUNDLANDERS THREATEN VIOLENCE

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., May 16.—Threats of the unemployed here to close the Legislative Assembly and to take by force for starving families food now in storage, led to representatives of the Colonial Government and the city meeting on Saturday to arrange a relief programme to be put into effect today.

Under the plan a thousand men would be given employment on public works in and about the city. Efforts will be made to obtain loans from the banks during the week to make possible a larger programme.

SUPER-DREADNOUGHT PASSES HER TESTS

ROCKLAND, Me., May 16.—The super-dreadnought Tennessee, electrically driven and equipped with a main battery of twelve 14-inch guns mounted in tripis turrets, today passed most of the tests set down for her in her standardization trial off this port.

On her five top-speed tests, with all four propellers at work, the ship averaged 21 knots, the highest clip being 21.378. She also developed a maximum horsepower of 30,909, exceeding her contract specification of 29,372. Motors, turbines and generators functioned excellently.

ASSIZES POSTPONED

Announcement of the postponement of the Victoria Assize Court for two weeks was made yesterday afternoon in a telegram received by the Registrar of the Supreme Court from Chief Justice Hunter. The grand and petit jurors who had been summoned to appear this morning were immediately notified by Sheriff Richards that their services would not be required until Tuesday, May 31. The reason for the postponement is that no Supreme Court judge is immediately available to take the Assizes here. There is only one case to be tried, that of the three Work Point Garrison soldiers, Eric Crowe, Robert Soutter and John Deane, charged with highway robbery of Rex Stinson, in Esquimalt, last January.

FORMER NELSON MAN CHARGED WITH BIGAMY

VANCOUVER, May 16.—Frank Wood, a former Nelson man, who has been employed at the gas works in this city, has been arrested by the Provincial police on a charge of bigamy. He left the city today in custody of Chief Gammon, of Nelson, to face trial.

Wood, who is a returned man, is said to have married Mary Lancaster at Nelson on November 8, 1919, while his wife, Mrs. Annie Wood, is still alive. The arrest took place while Wood was at work.

GERMANY MUST PAY FOR HAVOC

President Millerand Says Victims of Evil Work Demand Justice—King Albert of Belgium Echoes His Sentiments

LILLE, France, May 16. — With Germany still disclaiming responsibility for the war, there is no other course than to deal with her as one who must be compelled to make good her misdeeds, declared President Millerand, in an address delivered today in the presence of King Albert of Belgium.

"If the citizens of Lille, and Northern France and Belgium are too generous to claim revenge," he said, "they nevertheless, in accordance with the remainder of the people of France and the Allies, demand justice against the Government and the nation which brought on the war, and which, throughout the hostilities, pursued a systematic course of ruin and devastation toward the mines and industries, employing pillage and arson as a means of insuring their own industrial and economic ascendancy on the coming of peace. As long as Germany continues to deny her responsibility, which her plenipotentiary acknowledged at Versailles, there could be no real peace.

"It is not to the democracies, eager for work and peace, that one must look for imperialism. We cherish no ambition other than to assure to future generations liberty, fraternity and peace, in which individual happiness shall be the fruit of disinterested devotion to the right and the ideals."

Replying to President Millerand, King Albert said:

"Your words will find among my compatriots in Belgium a sympathetic echo."

Bell Telephone Issue of Stock

MONTREAL, May 16.—The Bell Telephone Co. of Canada announced today issuance of $5,250,000 in stock to be offered shareholders at par in the proportion of one new share for each four shares of record May 31.

WISH FAIR TRIAL FOR LIQUOR ACT

Upper Country People Ready to Aid in Its Enforcement, According to Commissioner Falconer—Question of Price

VANCOUVER, May 16.—"I found everyone in the interior very much interested in the Moderation Act, and determined to give it a fair trial," said Commissioner J. H. Falconer, of the Liquor Control Board, this morning, on his arrival home after several weeks' trip in the upper country.

While away, Mr. Falconer made arrangements for opening Government warehouses and offices for the administration of the Act, and held numerous interviews with public and semi-public bodies anxious to secure information on the new legislation.

"There is everywhere a disposition to carry out the wishes of the Government in the new legislation," Mr. Falconer said. "Everyone is hoping that the Act will work out satisfactorily, and, as far as the interior is concerned, it will have a sympathetic trial."

The Commissioner continued that he had been out of touch with the other members of his board for some time, and had nothing for announcement until he had consulted with them.

Asked if the new tax would not place a prohibitive price on liquor, Mr. Falconer said he did not think it was going to affect prices as badly as many now thought.

He took the morning boat for Victoria.

HAS NEW SCHEME FOR HOME RULE

Lord Hugh Cecil Suggests Kingdom for Ireland, Member of Present Royal House to Be Appointed King

TWO PARLIAMENTS, NORTH AND SOUTH

Army, But No Navy, to Be Allowed to Kingdom—Southern Leaders Describe Suggested Plan as Preposterous

BELFAST, May 16.—Lord Hugh Cecil, member of the Privy Council of Great Britain, who is the guest of Lord Londonderry's family in Mount Stewart, County Down, has suggested a scheme by which Ireland would be made an independent kingdom, its King to be a member of the Windsor family, probably the Prince of Wales, to be appointed by the King of England.

Under the scheme there would be two small parliaments, one to be located in Belfast and the other in Dublin and, in addition, a "House of Estates" of 100 members. Complete fiscal autonomy would be given at once to Ireland, but there would be a levy imposed for Imperial defence in proportion to the sum contributed by Great Britain for that purpose.

Ireland, under the plan, would be allowed to have an army, but no navy, and in the event of war, the King of Great Britain could suspend the constitution. Irishmen in the colonies would have the right to choose whether they would be subjects of the Irish or the English king. If favorably received by the Irish leaders the scheme would be submitted to a constituent assembly.

Some of the southern Irish leaders, including John Dillon, to whom the scheme was outlined, described it as "preposterous."

The significance of Lord Hugh's proposal comes from the fact that he is the guest of the Londonderry family, the greatest member of which was Lord Castlereagh, to whom more than to anybody else the breaking up of Henry Grattan's Irish parliament and the passing of the act of union in 1800 was due.

DRUG SMUGGLERS INVENT DEVICES

Health Official Speaks of Some Recent Schemes to Elude Customs — Provincial and Municipal Authorities Lax

VANCOUVER, May 16.—That it was extremely unfair to assume that returned soldiers were responsible for the increase in the drug traffic in Canada; that it was due more to the laxity of Provincial and Municipal Governments in their enforcement of the Federal laws, was the declaration of F. W. Cowan, assistant to the Deputy Minister of Health, in an address before the Vancouver Branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada today.

There has been a very considerable decrease in the consumption of drugs via the legitimate channels within the last year, according to Mr. Cowan. Foreign countries, such as Turkey, Persia and Germany, however, have vast quantities of narcotics to dispose of, and much of it was finding its way into the Dominion through smugglers. The ultimate destination of considerable drugs imported in this way into Canada was the United States and southern countries.

Mr. Cowan gave interesting instances which went to show the problem the customs officials and police were confronted with in apprehending smugglers. In one recent case, he said statuettes were used, a heavy shipment of drugs being concealed in the figures, ostensibly consigned to Canadian churches. In another instance many large boxes of imitation fruit contained a $100,000 order of drugs for the illicit trade in the Dominion.

The speaker said that doctors and druggists throughout Canada were co-operating in the campaign against illicit sale, and were lending valuable aid to the Government. An effective licencing system was in vogue for the legitimate sale, he pointed out, so that the authorities had complete control in this direction. In conclusion, he wished to emphasize the fact that Vancouver was not worse than other cities and towns in the Dominion, the traffic being very heavy everywhere. It was controlled, moreover, by international rings, which worked with great caution.

CANADIAN EXPORTS FLUCTUATE WIDELY

OTTAWA, May 16.—That Canadian exports per head of population jumped from $40 in 1916 to $179 in 1916 and down to $132 in 1921, was shown in the monthly trade returns issued by the Department of Trade and Commerce. The figures for the intervening years follow: 1911, $35; 1912, $40; 1913, $47; 1914, $54; 1915, $52; 1916, $91; 1917-'19-'20, $138.

The basis of population on which these figures are estimated were: 1917, 8,361,000; 1918, 6,593,000; 1919, 8,555,000; 1920, 9,036,000; 1921, 9,253,000.

ACTION ON SILESIA WAITS FOR MEETING OF ALLIED COUNCIL

Gathering Is Likely to Be Postponed Until After Debate in French Chamber, Where Premier Briand Expects Vote of Confidence to Strengthen His Position

POLAND PROMISES TO RESPECT TREATY

Intervention of Holiday and Restrained Attitude in Germany May Bring Alleviation of Strained Relations—Polish Insurgent Leader Makes His Intentions Known

LONDON, May 16.—Intervention of the Whitsun holiday brought a slight easing of the tension in the Silesian crisis. No new development was reported today, and apparently nothing further has been decided in reference to the meeting of the Supreme Council, which probably will not be held before next week, as the debate in the French Chamber is expected to occupy several days. The view held here is that the delay will serve in allaying passion on both sides and providing a more favorable atmosphere for calm discussion.

Moreover, it is believed Premier Briand of France was not averse to seizing the opportunity afforded by Mr. Lloyd George's speech to assume a strong patriotic attitude, which would assure him of a big vote of confidence.

Having seized a vote of confidence, it is thought Premier Briand may enter the conference better equipped for a compromise settlement.

Official communications were made today through the Polish legation here voicing Poland's determination to respect the provisions of the Versailles treaty, and these assurances, combined with the attitude of the German Government and press in repudiating any attempt to take military action in Silesia, are regarded as having greatly eased the situation.

Press Comments

LONDON, May 16.—Commenting on the views of Premier Lloyd George and Premier Briand relative to the Polish insurrection in Silesia, The Observer said on Sunday: "We are on the brink of a catastrophe, and if the impulses of France cannot be restrained behind the closed door of the Supreme Council, then they must be restrained in public."

The newspaper branded Poland as a "new Prussia."

Indignant comments of the French press regarding Prime Minister Lloyd George's speech on Poland before the House of Commons Friday attracted much attention from London newspapers today. For the most part they were regretted and deprecated, although in quarters where Mr. Lloyd George's attitude relative to Poland is condemned, blame was placed upon him.

Oppose Interference

BERLIN, May 16.—German newspapers express pleasure over declarations made Friday by Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain relative to the situation in Upper Silesia, but most of them give warning against a German march into Silesia, unless such a movement should be requested by the entente powers.

They declare that such an advance would result in war with both France and Poland.

"If Adalbert Korfanty should presume to take possession of any disputed territory without permission from the entente, said The Lokal Anzeiger, "we shall be exempt from all our obligations and duties."

Korfanty's Declaration

SCHOPINITZ, Silesia, May 16.—The Polish insurgent leader, Adelbert Korfanty, alluding to Premier Lloyd George's statement about Rybnik and Pless, said yesterday:

"I believe it impossible that he would make such a statement before the decision of the council of ambassadors, and I do not wish to comment."

Should inter-Allied troops clear out the Polish insurgents, Korfanty said, "We won't fight the Entente troops."

He added: "I am awaiting the decision regarding Upper Silesia. We will abide by it and immediately move out, if it is against us.

"Should only Pless and Rybnik be awarded to Poland, the people will fight on under their own leaders. I have given my word that I will not."

GREEK WARSHIPS MUST MOVE AWAY

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 16.—A note has been sent to the Sultan's Government by the Allied High Commissioner here stating that Greek war vessels will leave Turkish waters at once.

The Allies last week declared that Turkish waters under Allied control would be neutral fields in the conflict between the Greeks and the Turkish Nationalists.

RESUME THEIR WORK

MOOSE JAW, Sask., May 16.—Bricklayers and plasterers here will tomorrow resume work after being out on strike more than a week. A settlement today gives the men $1.15 an hour. In the original demands the men sought $1.25 an hour, while the employers offered a scale of $1.10.

The carpenters have protested the 80 cents an hour offered them, but have continued at work. They will meet the contractors Tuesday, when a settlement will be made.

MANY VETERANS ARE UNEMPLOYED

Vancouver Associations Secure Names of 2,000 Who Are Out of Work—Appeals to Be Made on Their Behalf

VANCOUVER, B.C., May 16.—There are at least 2,000 returned men out of employment in Vancouver, according to figures given out today by the Vancouver branch of the Great War Veterans' Association.

Members of the G. W. V. A., Army and Navy Veterans' Association, and other similar bodies have been patrolling the streets the last few days securing names and addresses of ex-service men without employment. Altogether 2,000 names have been listed in this way, but this figure does not represent the total number of unemployed among the ranks of men who have served overseas.

Representations are to be made to the Vancouver Board of Trade, the Canadian and British Columbia Manufacturers' Association and other organizations concerned with providing employment, with a view to increasing production or in some way assisting to relieve conditions.

The G. W. V. A. is also asking public organizations to give their support to the request to the parliamentary committee on pensions and re-establishment, and the Premier, for the institution of the housing scheme advocated by returned men recently appearing before the committee in Ottawa.

Unemployment, the amalgamation of all returned soldier bodies, and housing loans will be among the most important matters to be discussed next month at the Provincial convention of the Great War Veterans' Association at Chilliwack.

BUDGET DEBATE NEARING CLOSE

Speaking Is Now Left Largely to Opposition Members — Little of Value Found in Oratorical Efforts

OTTAWA, May 16.—Although the close of the budget debate is perceptibly nearer as a result of today's proceedings in the House, contributions to the discussion brought forth little that has not already been said. Opening with a speech by J. E. Armstrong, Government supporter from Lambton East, the debate was carried on largely by members of the Liberal Opposition, J. E. Prevost, Terrebonne; Joseph Demers, St. John's, Que., and O. Turgeon, Gloucester, N.B., joined in criticism of the Government, while T. W. Caldwell, Progressive member from Carleton, N.B., charged that the taxation measure already designed were for the benefit of the Canadian manufacturer. H. B. Morphy, North Perth, defended the policy of the Government.

In opening the debate, Mr. Armstrong criticised the Opposition members representing industrial constituencies for unfaithfulness to the manufacturing interests. A free trade policy, if introduced, would mean death to many of these industries, at any rate as far as Canada was concerned.

Mr. Prevost followed with a criticism of the Prime Minister, whom he charged with imperialistic tendancies. Government methods for putting through estimates were characterized as arbitrary and autocratic, and Mr. Demers and Mr. Caldwell said that the time was inopportune for abolishing the luxury tax.

In the course of his speech, Mr. Turgeon favored a direct tax on land values. Mr. Morphy favored the appointment of Canadian trade agents in the United States.

BRITAIN'S TRADE WITH DOMINIONS SHOWS INCREASE

LONDON, May 16.—Latest official trade returns show that the value of Great Britain's trade with the overseas Dominions and possessions has increased at a greater rate proportionately than her trade with foreign countries.

In 1913, rather less than 29 per cent of British exports went to the countries within the Empire, whereas the returns for the first quarter of 1921 show that Great Britain's exports to British overseas possessions amounted to 43 per cent of her total exports.

Exports to Canada during the first quarter of the present year were practically the same as during the corresponding period of 1913, but imports from Canada have increased very considerably.

Killed by Street Car

VANCOUVER, B.C., May 16.—Mrs. Aaron Rome, of Vancouver, was struck and killed by a street car here today, and Motorman James Wright was taken into custody charged formally with manslaughter.

ASK DR. TOLMIE TO GO TO LONDON

Farmers' Institutes Want Their Attitude Regarding Oriental Competition Represented at Imperial Conference

The advisory board of the Farmers' Institutes of British Columbia have urged Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, to attend the Imperial Conference in London to represent the views of Pacific Coast farmers on the question of Oriental competition in agriculture.

Dr. Tolmie has replied to Mr. C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, secretary of the board, asking for data on the situation, and this has been promised him. The Provincial Department will co-operate in getting this information, Hon. E. D. Barrow has promised.

Mr. Whitney-Griffiths wrote to Dr. Tolmie, in part, as follows:

"In reference to the Oriental menace existing to the great detriment of agriculture in British Columbia, and to the canvas that is being made by the Provincial Government, it was recommended at recent conventions held throughout the Province that this matter of a renewal of the treaty with Japan to come up at the Imperial Conference in June to be held in London, at which time the Dominion Government representatives will be present, 'that a man familiar with the true situation in British Columbia should be appointed by the Dominion Government.'

"Will you kindly let me know whether the Dominion Government will follow the suggestions, as the situation is steadily growing worse.

"It is the hope of many of us that you yourself will find time to go to London on that occasion; but, if not, will you not urge that someone should be sent from British Columbia, as there are members of the Dominion House who are familiar, though not nearly to the extent that you yourself are?

"It is our desire to take the utmost advantage to advertise the condition as we know it to exist and I am confident the Hon. Mr. Barrow will be only too glad to co-operate with you."

WEST VIRGINIA WAR GROWS LESS FIERCE

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., May 16.—Firing on the Crystal Block Coal Company's headhouse at Rawl, W. Va., broke out tonight, but lasted only a few minutes.

Evidences of the battles of the last few days are plentiful at Rawl, Merrimac and Spring. Houses and stores were riddled with bullets, and windows, mirrors and showcases shattered.

A coat hanging in one house at Spring was found to contain 17 bullet holes.

Brutal Murder in Montreal

MONTREAL, May 16.—George Jobin, 56, wholesale furrier of this city, was brutally murdered and robbed in his store Saturday night. He was battered about the head with a hammer and slashed about the face, neck and head with a pair of scissors. No arrests have been made.

LEAPS FROM AIRPLANE AT 800 FEET HEIGHT

OMAHA, Neb., May 16.—Warren P. Kite, air pilot, was instantly killed at Grand Island, Neb., when, before several thousand spectators, he was forced to leap from his plane at a height of 800 feet.

He had been performing aerial stunts with pilot J. P. Smith for several minutes when the two planes suddenly crashed. Smith's propellor cut the tail off Kite's machine.

To the spectators, it appeared that Kite misjudged the height at which he was flying when he jumped. He rose in his seat, poised himself for an instant and leaped into space. Every bone in his body was broken. Smith was uninjured.

Communists Arrested

BUCHAREST, May 14.—The police today entered the Roumanian communist congress and arrested 73 persons, including three members of the Chamber of Deputies, after the minority members of the congress had protested against the validity of a vote by the majority in favor of unqualified adherence to the Third International. The police allege that the communists have received a subsidy in jewels from Moscow.

EXPECT BUDGET VOTE TO COME TOMORROW

OTTAWA, May 16.—The vote on the budget in the House of Commons is expected to take place about Wednesday next. It is understood that the Premier has expressed a desire to have the debate ended before Thursday, and the Government speakers will be regulated accordingly.

Hon Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition, and Hon T. A. Crerar, leader of the agrarians, have yet to take part in the debate, however, while there are said to be seventeen other speakers on the Opposition side who have made known their intention of taking part in the debate.

If the vote on the budget comes on Wednesday or Thursday prorogation is expected within two weeks thereafter.

MURDER PEOPLE IN ENGLISH HOMES

Irish Republican Thugs Carry Their Campaign to London and Liverpool—Brutal Work Done by Several Bands

LIVERPOOL, May 16.—Six houses in widely-separated parts of this city were raided and set afire by unidentified parties last night. The occupants of every house thus visited have relatives serving in the Royal Irish Constabulary. The inmates were, in some cases, gagged and bound, the furniture was drenched with kerosene and set afire, and in some instances the helpless people were left to the mercy of the flames by the raiders, who fled in automobiles.

The raids were in all ways similar to those made in London districts and in this city Saturday night.

One house that was raidod was occupied by a widow and her daughter. The latter opened the door when there was a knock and she was seized by the throat by the intruder. She struggled and fled to her mother and then fainted. The women were too terrified to raise an alarm.

In another house were three sisters who were overawed by a dozen men who displayed revolvers and threatened to shoot if they stirred. A terrier attacked the raiders when they assailed his 17-year-old master, and prevented them from setting fire to the house. When the raiders ran, the dog chased them, but was shot dead.

A sailor named Brailsford, who lost a leg in the famous naval raid on Zeebrugge, refused to throw up his hands when men broke into his house, but threw a sewing machine at the intruders, who fled, firing their revolvers.

None of the raiders have been captured.

Bloodshed in London

LONDON, May 16.—Acts of violence, involving bloodshed and which the police attribute to a Sinn Fein campaign to terforize London, were carried out Saturday night in various suburbs and also at St. Albans, twenty-one miles northwest of London.

Several suburban towns were visited by armed men, whose primary object appears to have been arson, but who, when interrupted, resorted to shooting. Three persons were wounded, one probably fatally. A man and his wife in St. Albans were shot.

In most cases the houses fired were occupied by persons connected with the Irish Royal Constabulary.

Following the incendiary attacks police raided and searched seven places in London connected with the Sinn Fein organization. These included the headquarters of the Irish Self-Determination League. A quantity of documents was seized and one arrest made.

Raiders who fired one house of one member of the Royal Irish Constabulary also shot and seriously wounded a tenant of another member of the constabulary.

At Tooting raiders fired the residence of the father of a member of the constabulary. Similar acts of incendiarism were carried out in West Kensington.

In one place the raiders evidently made a visit to the wrong place, but in a scuffle with the occupants in the house they shot and wounded a man and his wife.

DENY PROFITING BY GRAVEL PIT

Mayor Gale, Commissioner Gillespie and J. H. Senkler Appear Before Commission to Contradict Reports

VANCOUVER, May 16.—Not one cent of the $45,000 "split up" from the sale of the Coquitlam gravel pit property went to any member of the Vancouver and district joint sewerage board, or to J. H. Senkler, K.C., whose name has been mentioned along with certain members of the board, as having participated in the profit derived when H. J. Perrin, holder of an option on the property for $30,000 sold it to the board for $75,006.

Mayor Gale, Mr. Senkler and Commissioner E. J. Gillespie, whose names had been mentioned in connection with the "split-up," gave emphatic and indignant denials when they went on the stand this morning, that they had ever received or even discussed such a thing with anybody, and were equally emphatic in their statements that they did not even know Perrin was concerned in the deal, but believed when they were negotiating with Mr. Senkler, that they were dealing with one of the owners of the property.

This was corroborated by Mr. Senkler when he went on the stand.

Peterboro Printers

PETERBORO, Ont., May 16.—The printers' strike in Peterboro terminated Saturday with the adoption of a tentative agreement granting the job printers a 44-hour week with a $30 a week scale. The newspapers will go back to a 46-hour week and an increase of $1.50 weekly, bringing the scale up to $31.50.

THEFT OF DYNAMITE NEAR WELLAND CANAL

WELLAND, Ont., May 16.—In the belief that the theft of 22 cases of dynamite, weighing 1,100 lbs. from the government stores near Allanburg, Ont., last Friday night, was the initial step in a plan by unemployed "Reds" to blow up the Welland Canal, the police of Welland and Niagara Falls, Ont., are co-operating with the federal authorities in an effort to locate the stolen explosive and round up the principals in the supposed plot.

One empty case is all that has been found, and there is a suspicion that the contents of this case were placed in the canal, though a search has failed to reveal it.

A good deal of anxiety has been caused by the discovery of the theft, as an attempt to blow up the Welland Canal was made some years ago at Thorold, three miles and a half from Allanburg.

CANADIAN ROADS END AGREEMENTS

Notify Employees That Present Arrangements Will Terminate in Thirty Days—Attitude of Brotherhoods

TORONTO, May 16.—Labor organizations holding wage agreements with Canadian railways have received the thirty-day notice of expiration which is contained in the agreements with the railroads.

"It is not at all serious. It will be taken care of in good time between the organizations and the railroads," was the comment of James Murdock, representative of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, when informed of the decision of the roads.

Asked what stand the brotherhoods and other organizations would take, Mr. Murdock replied it could be judged from the attitude of the organizations affected by similar notices from the United States railways.

"We have taken our case to the United States War Labor Board, and have intimated that wages in effect are reasonable and fair and should not be reduced," he said. "No conditions have arisen which warrant wage reductions. I suppose you know that railroads in the United States which gave notice to us, such as the Baltimore & Ohio, and others have withdrawn their notices."

DISTRICT HONORS HON. E. D. BARROW

Many of Minister's Constituents Assemble at Liberal Banquet in Abbotsford—Several Members Speak

ABBOTSFORD, B.C., May 16.—All Abbotsford and district turned out, irrespective of party politics, to do honor to Hon. E. D. Barrow, their local member, and to hear the Liberal ministers at the Liberal banquet Saturday night in Abbotsford Hall. It was the biggest affair of its kind ever held in the district. Selections by the Abbotsford band and by local artists interspersed the programme of speeches, and the evening was held by all to be a great success.

F. J. R. Whitchelo presided over the affair. In addition to the guest of honor, speeches on matters of policy were delivered by Attorney-General Farris, Hon. Dr. J. D. MacLean and Hon. Mrs. Smith.

Major Ashwell, of Chilliwack, expressed the sentiments and congratulations of the Chilliwack contingent, who were there in large numbers.

Good-naturad fun was the keynote of the evening, but Hon. Mr. Barrow took occasion to explain the plan upon which the Government's "cheap powder for settlers" scheme is to be worked, and Hon. Dr. MacLean defended the Education Department from any suggestion that money is wasted on "frills."

Speaking chiefly on the new liquor laws, Attorney-General Farris asked for the assistance of all citizens to make the new act a success, by personal self-control and by assisting the authorities to run down any lawbreakers.

The grand total of Canadian trade decreased by $44,774,677 in April, 1921, when the total was $109,396,557, as against $154,161,234, grand total for April, 1921.

Domestic exports for April, 1921, were $43,230,726, against $53,356,396 for April last year, a decrease of $10,075,651. For the same period of 1921 merchandise entered for consumption dropped in value from $98,390,735 to $65,310,347, a decrease of $32,979,380.

The value of foreign merchandise exported from Canada during April, 1921, also showed a decrease of $1,719,138, the corresponding figures being, for April, 1921, $794,976 and April, 1920, $2,514,113.

IRISH WARFARE HAS HEAVY TOLL

Reign of Bloodshed and Terrorism Unusually Fierce at Week-End — Priest and Women Are Among Victims

CORK, May 16.—Saturday night was a night of terror in Cork, following the bombing of the police barracks at Blackpool. The home of Liam Roisite, Sinn Fein member of the British Parliament, was raided. He was absent, but a priest, who was staying in the house, was shot and later died. Patrick Sheehan, a republican, who was newly married, was shot through the heart.

After the shooting a sergeant and four policemen, while going for a priest, were fired upon. Two constables were killed and another wounded.

The Roisite house occupies a secluded position in Janesmount. The raiders, after surrounding the house, knocked at the door, and when admission was denied them they broke a window, but found it barred by shutters. A masked man then climbed the trellis and entered the bedroom of Mrs. Roisite. She struggled with the man, who dropped his revolver.

Murder of Priest

The noise brought the mother of Mrs. Roisite. Thereupon the man left by the window. Meanwhile the glass panel in the hall door had been broken and another mounted the stairs. This man met the priest, Father O'Callahan, and a maid in the corridor.

"Surely you won't shoot a priest?" exclaimed the maid.

There was a momentary pause, and then the man flung his arm around the priest's neck, drew him close and shot him back of the shoulder. The maid grasped the revolver, but three more shots were fired, breaking pictures on the wall. The man then fled.

Father O'Callahan crumpled up unconscious. He died later. He was a great speaker, and a teacher in the Irish Munster College.

Three men were shot in their homes Saturday night. The son of one was wounded.

A soldier of the Essex Regiment was shot at Bandon Saturday while acting as a guard for soldiers playing football at Koughal, 27 miles east of Cork. Military raids started at 11 a.m. Sunday and continued until 3 a.m. Monday. There were intervals when rifle and pistol shots were heard. Many houses were searched, including the residence of Father Ahern. Considerable damage was done.

Three civilians were wounded in fighting between members of the constabulary and armed civilians at Bromadaleague.

A constable was shot dead at Inishannon.

Killing Women

DUBLIN, May 16.—Three Government officers and the wife of one of them were shot and killed in an ambush last night at Ballyeiren, four miles from Gort, County Galway. The party was riding in a motor car when it was ambushed by forty men.

Military and police reinforcements sent to the scene were fired upon and one constable was seriously wounded.

LONDON, May 16.—In Ireland nine policemen, two soldiers and several other persons were killed Saturday and Sunday in attacks and counter-attacks. For general and organised violence Saturday and Sunday probably were the worst in Ireland since January, 1919. All the casualties except one occurred in the area of the Southern Parliament.

Miss Barrington, only daughter of Sir Charles Barrington, of Glenstal Castle, County Limerick, and Head of the Masonic Order in North Munster, and Police Inspector Biggs were shot dead from ambush Saturday night by civilians while motoring from Killosully to Newport, County Tipperary. Sir Charles formerly was High Sheriff of County Limerick.

Sinn Feiner Killed

At Dromore, Tyrone, a Sinn Feiner was shot dead.

One constable was shot dead and two were wounded Saturday at Drumcollagher. A party of police going to their relief was fired on and two policemen hurt.

Fierce fighting followed an attack on the Bandon police barracks. The military and police swept the streets with machine guns at about the same time armed civilians marched through Dunmanway, County Cork. Being followed by auxiliaries in motor lorries, they shot and killed several horses in the streets to delay their pursuers.

All roads south and west of Cork have been trenched at many points.

One hundred civilians were repulsed in an attack on the Clonakilty barracks with rifles and machine guns Saturday. Four attackers were seen to fall.

Two gunners of the Royal Marine Artillery stationed at East Ferry, County Cork, were shot dead Saturday night. This was the first attack on naval forces. At Castletown and Berehaven, County Cork, two soldiers were killed by civilians Sunday.

Bombs were thrown at military lorries on three occasions in the Dublin district Sunday. Several occupants were wounded.

Several Murders

BELFAST, May 16.—Head Constable Benson was shot and killed at Straies Saturday.

A party of men, according to a Dublin Castle report, entered Courtmasherry, several miles east of Bandon, Saturday, and fired on soldiers who were off duty. The troops returned to barracks and the rebels fired on the barracks for 20 minutes. Two soldiers were slightly wounded.

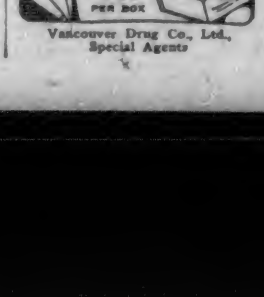

Last night two constables were wounded near Skibbereen. It is believed one will die.

Shot After Trial

CORK, May 16.—Daniel O'Brien, of Knockandbane, Liscarrol, County Cork, was tried by a drumhead court-martial Saturday and executed in the Cork detention barracks this morning.

O'Brien met death bravely, maintaining the same attitude that he displayed at his trial, when in answering the request that he plead, he replied: "I have no defence; was caught as a soldier, and you can try me."

AURORA AFFECTS WIRES GENERALLY

British Isles and Northern Europe Report Trouble From Magnetic Disturbance—Contions Improve on Prairies

LONDON, May 16.—Telegraph and telephone lines in the British Isles and throughout all Northern Europe have been seriously interrupted by the great magnetic storm which virtually paralyzed wire transmission in the United States Saturday night and Sunday night. Cables between England and the United States were affected early this morning, and transmission was badly delayed.

The disturbance is believed to have caused a fire which destroyed a telephone exchange at Karlstad, a Swedish town about 160 miles west of Stockholm. The building was destroyed.

WINNIPEG, May 16.—The Aurora Borealis, which since Thursday has made operation of both press and commercial telegraphic wires very difficult, reached a climax last night, and Winnipeg was cut off from the outside world almost entirely. It was more widespread in its effects than it has been for many years. Points as far apart as Ottawa, in the east, and Vancouver, in the west, reported they were experiencing trouble.

While conditions have improved somewhat, telegraph companies still experienced considerable trouble this morning.

SEATTLE, May 16.—Disturbances caused by the Aurora Borealis continued to interrupt wireless service at the United States navy radio station here today, and the station was unable to work with ships even off the Washington coast. Since Friday afternoon the station has been practically out of commission, according to officers in charge.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The theory that the Aurora Borealis results from sun spots was advanced by Dr. J. A. Brashear, the late Pittsburg astronomer. The theory has never been definitely accepted, naval observatory officials asserted, but the fact that spots on the sun usually are accompanied by electrical disturbances has resulted in almost general acceptance.

The spots now present on the sun, and which were visible to the naked eye today with a smoked glass, were first photographed at the naval observatory last Monday. The spots then, according to Dr. D. H. Peters, were about one and a half to two days old. The following day the photographer showed the spots to be much agitated, the gaseous vapors of which they were composed resembling a cyclonic storm, Dr. Peters said. Yesterday's photographs, taken about noon, showed the spots to be near the solar meridian.

Naval observatory officials said presence of such a large group of spots at this time was most unusual.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., May 16. Appearance of the Aurora Borealis Saturday night caused the Indians on the Colorado desert to become panic stricken, according to reports brought here today. The phenomenon as seen from the desert was declared to be of rare beauty. In Big Bear Valley, in the San Bernardino mountains, the lights puzzled hundreds of people spending the week-end at the resorts. The reflection of the lights on the surface of the lake made the scene more spectacular.

The altitude in Big Bear Valley is 8,000 feet, the result being that the sky there appeared half ablaze.

BREWSTER, N.Y., May 16.—A fire which destroyed the Central New England railway station here Saturday night, was caused by the Aurora Borealis, in the opinion of railway officials. Telegraph Operator Hatch says he was driven away from his instrument by a flare of flame which enveloped the switchboard and ignited the building.

CENSURE MEMBERS WHO SHIRK DUTIES

Prominent Businessmen Slated by Chamber of Commerce Directors for Failure to Attend Meetings

Members of the Chamber of Commerce, some of them leaders in the city's business life, who, apparently, haven't taken their duties to the Chamber very seriously, were severely castigated at a directors' meeting in the Dominion Hotel yesterday.

The committee on committees and the retail merchants' committee submitted reports to the directors, naming certain directors who had neglected to attend the last three committee meetings, suggesting that they be dropped from committee membership.

"There appears to be only one thing to do, and that is to grant the committees what they ask," said Mr. Stephen Jones, who was presiding.

"These men that the committee have reported on should realise their duty to Victoria sufficiently to get out and attend meetings of the Chamber of Commerce," declared Alderman A. E. Todd. "They are certainly open to criticism. Most of them have been here for a long time and they have big interests in Victoria. If they haven't sufficient initiative to take an active part in the city's affairs, they might as well pack their grips and get out somewhere where they can play as much golf as they want. I hope this will reach the ears of these people."

"That's all right if you leave out the golf part of it," said Mr. A. C. Flumerfelt, and Mr. Joshua Kingham felt the same way about it. "There are lots of golfers in the Chamber of Commerce who attend meetings," added Mr. Flumerfelt.

Mr. W. A. Jameson seconded a motion proposed by Alderman Todd that the members reported upon be dropped from the committees and new men named to take their place.

RECOMMEND SITES FOR AMUSEMENTS

Land Proposed for G.T.P. Hotel Is Preferred by Chamber of Commerce Committee—Defer Consideration

Property fronting on the east side of Government Street, between Belleville and Elliott Streets, and known as the Grand Trunk Pacific Hotel site, was recommended to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday as being the most suitable site for the auditorium, swimming baths, bowling alleys and other indoor attractions for the proposed amusement centre.

The recommendation was made by the special Chamber of Commerce committee on amusement sites. For outdoor attractions the committee recommended that portion of Beacon Hill Park from the entrance at Rupert Street along Heywood Avenue to Park Road, east of the children's playground. The Munroe estate, fronting on Douglas, Michigan and Toronto Streets, was submitted as an alternative.

Mr. F. Landsberg, of the Empire Realty Company, offered the property to the committee for $15,000 cash. The general taxes for 1920 are $933.47. One more yearly payment on local improvement is due May 31, amounting to $68.65. According to Mr. Landsberg, an offer of $75,000 was made for the property in 1911 and 1912, but the owners refused to sell. The frontage is as follows: Douglas Street, 495 feet; Michigan Street, 315 feet; Toronto Street, 315 feet.

The G. T. P. hotel site may be purchased for the amount of taxes against it, the committee understands.

The matter was laid over for two weeks.

LIQUOR TAX INCREASE WILL HIT VICTORIA

One Industry May Lose All Profits—Chamber of Commerce Directors Debate Issue, But Decline to Act

Advisability of protesting against the increased Federal tax on liquor was discussed yesterday by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, but it was decided to leave the matter alone for the time being.

Mr. George I. Warren brought the question up for debate, and he held that a strong protest should be made against the increase, which, he claimed, would only affect British Columbia and Quebec, and was therefore discriminatory. The Government expected to get $5,000,000 from British Columbia, he said.

Mr. Joshua Kingham advised against dealing with the matter. It was purely a question of Government policy, he said.

"But it is discrimination against this Province, and I think we pay enough already into the Dominion treasury," argued Alderman Todd. "If the Dominion Government wants to turn itself into a collecting agency and return the money to the Provincial Government, that would not be objectionable, but otherwise the money to be derived almost exclusively from British Columbia will be spent elsewhere."

"This is simply a general tax of the Federal Government," said Mr. Kingham.

"It's politics," remarked Mr. A. C. Flumerfelt.

"It is politics, and we are well advised to keep out of it," agreed Mr. Kingham.

"I can't see where it is politics," said Mr. Warren, "but I can see where it is likely to deprive this Province of five millions of dollars."

"If this Province had supported prohibition, it wouldn't have to pay," said Mr. Flumerfelt.

"There might have been no tax in that case," said Mr. Warren.

"Don't you believe it," returned Mr. Flumerfelt.

The new increase will probably affect British Columbia in many ways, and yesterday manufacturers of flavoring extracts in Victoria were making inquiries through the Manufacturers' Association whether the charge of nine dollars a gallon, as announced, was to stand. This is practically double what was formerly paid and will wipe out all profit, the manufacturers state.

KEEPING FAITH WITH THE CANADIAN TRIBES

Agreement That Runs in Perpetuity Faithfully Observed by Dominion Government

"And this agreement shall go on forever and aye."

Thus in part runs the wording of an agreement between the Canadian Government and certain nomadic tribes of far northern Indians who live today much as their forefathers did hundreds of years ago. The carrying out of this treaty presents one of the most interesting sights to be viewed on the far northland, but one seldom seen by the traveler, as it occurs only once a year and in places remote.

In the far northland, says Francis Dickie, in The Western Home Monthly, though the Indians still have the same hunting and fishing privileges as their forefathers and are practically as independent as before the white man came, the Government, in return for the nominal taking of the country, made a treaty about half a century ago in the name of the "Great White Queen," which reads in part: "Her Majesty agrees that each chief after signing the treaty shall receive a silver medal and suitable flag, and every third year thereafter he shall receive a new suit of clothes." Every common member of the tribe yearly receives $5; the chiefs $25; and the headsman $15. In addition each tribesman receives as much ammunition and twine for nets as amounts to the value of a dollar. Certain places throughout the northland, generally some trading post on the bank of one of the larger rivers which flow through the region, are made the appointed meeting places. To these once a year the Government agent comes, carrying in his grips tens of thousands of dollars in one and two-dollar bills. Larger denominations are never used.

Picturesque Scenes

Out on the open plain the agent stands, surrounded by the vast concourse of red men, chiefs, headmen, aged hunters, young bucks, squaws and myriads of children. One by one the Indians come forward and receive their yearly treaty, the white man checking off each name in his book as he pays. The agent is always a man carefully chosen for his work, one with knowledge of the natives gained by years of close personal touch. Generally he speaks one or more languages.

As there is little possibility of the land ever being settled, that part of the wording of the treaty which stipulates that the Government will yearly pay out so much money per person according to their rank "forever and aye," in all likelihood will be paid forever and aye, in keeping with original wording, which is more than can be said of many treaties made with aboriginal people by the white invaders.

There are no less than 240,000 oil wells in operation in the United States for the production of gasoline.

MR. WILLIAM FERNIE

In a manner that will be felt in every direction where local philanthropic effort is required, the death of Mr. William Fernie will be deeply regretted. The great majority of the citizens knew him only by name, and then always in connection with some charitable donation, always of a substantial kind. Only a few people knew of the extent of his philanthropy, for his benefactions were as often as not anonymous and his greatest satisfaction was derived from the knowledge of doing good for its own sake, and in order that his fellow men might benefit. The late Mr. Fernie, during the years of his active career, and they were full of achievement, wrote his name into the history of British Columbia, of which he was a worthy pioneer. He had the true pioneering spirit which discounts hardships and only looks upon them as rungs in the ladder of success. As a prospector he had to face many privations and disappointments, but like most of that race, who refuse to be discouraged, he met with ultimate success. His persistency won him wealth and a place in the annals of the Province which he chose as the scene of his labors. His name was selected as that of the now prosperous mining town, near the eastern boundary of British Columbia, and his association with the Crows Nest Mines, the wealth of which he discovered, made him a participant in a large way in the mineral development of the Province.

Victoria can ill afford to lose such citizens as Mr. Fernie. The Province owes a good deal to his energies, and what he accomplished will always be recalled with pride. In a just cause he was never appealed to in vain, and he always took a staunch and earnest interest in those matters of public importance which bespoke progress. The Colonist extends its sympathy to his surviving relatives in the great loss they have sustained.

A CONVALESCENT HOME

We can well believe that the directors of the Jubilee Hospital are receiving a good deal of encouragement in their proposal that the new institution which they are pledged to build should take the form of a memorial to those, from British Columbia, who fell during the Great War. They can elaborate on their proposal in a manner which will make it even more popular. Since the Esquimalt Hospital was closed down there is no convalescent home for disabled returned men on Vancouver Island, and the Dominion Government, is, or should be, under an obligation to provide one. For the purpose there is ample ground available at the Jubilee Hospital, and some consideration should be given to a proposal to provide a building for convalescents on the site, if all other conditions are desirable. A convalescent home, in connection with a new Jubilee Hospital, would make that institution a war memorial of undoubted value and one of a character which would give a good deal of satisfaction to the dependents of the fallen, the relatives of the disabled men who require convalescent treatment, and, indeed, to the returned soldiers as a whole.

So long as there is no military hospital available in this vicinity the disabled men who continue to require treatment must be housed in local institutions, or else sent to the Mainland. Many of them are now at the Jubilee Hospital, and, no doubt, while they require direct hospital treatment, and the care which goes with it, they will remain there. There are, however, many disabled men who are in the convalescent stage, and for these there should be special provision, just as there is in other parts of the Dominion. The Federal Government is rightly expected to do a good deal in this respect, and in the first instance should pay for any building required, but there are public spirited organizations which would be only too ready to assist to the utmost of their ability. The Red Cross Society would, we feel sure, lend its help towards making the conditions under which convalescent disabled men live as ideal as they can be made. The Daughters of Empire would also help. We mention these two organizations, but any and all bodies, if the convalescent home existed in this locality, would be anxious to add to its facilities, usefulness and attractive features.

The Jubilee Hospital directors, in advancing their memorial idea, should include in it the establishment of a convalescent home for the permanently disabled returned men. There may be objections to such a home being built on the same grounds as a hospital, but there is the redeeming feature that such a location would make hospital treatment immediately accessible to those in the home. The hospital directors could readily sound public opinion on the subject, and the aid that might be expected from the Dominion Government could be ascertained through Dr. S. F. Tolmie. In a matter such as the proposed convalescent home the returned soldiers organizations should be consulted, so that, before any plans might be finally decided upon, there should be something like unanimity of opinion. It may be said at once that the proposal to plant an avenue of trees as a memorial to those who died in the Great War is not regarded with general favor. The hospital memorial plan has very much more to commend it than the Shelbourne Avenue idea, and if the former were coupled with the establishment of a convalescent home for disabled returned men, which could be decorated with the flags of overseas units, with war trophies and scrolls commemorating those who fell in the war, we think it would enlist public sympathy and appreciation to a marked degree.

A BROOM FESTIVAL

The arrangements under way for the May 24 celebration give good promise of making the event even more enjoyable than it has been in past years. It is proposed this year that a distinctive note will be struck by designating the celebration a broom festival, the idea being that broom should be the dominant decoration used throughout the holiday. The people will not need any persuasion to follow this suggestion, for the popularity of the broom which grows in such profusion in this vicinity is assured, and it is a feature which calls forth the constant admiration of visitors. Those who are giving their time and energy to preparations for the entertainment of the public during the May 24 holiday deserve from the people full co-operation in the plans upon which they decide, and we believe that designed to make the occasion a broom festival will prove particularly attractive.

One of the features of the celebration will be the customary parade of decorated floats. In this connection the citizens should be given their first opportunity of seeing the captured German guns which have been presented to Victoria as trophies. These guns have lain for several months in the possession of the city and no final decision has been reached about where they are to be located as perpetual souvenirs of the Great War. The occasion of May 24 is one which should not be passed by without utilizing these guns as a feature of the parade, which has always proved the chief sight-seeing spectacle of the celebration. Indications are that the public are looking forward with more than usual anticipation to May 24 this year, so that the committees providing amusements for the event will be proportionately enthusiastic in the knowledge their efforts will be appreciated to the full. The broom will be in full bloom on May 24. It can be utilized in a variety of ways to meet the request of those who are so energetically organizing the broom festival.

The Lord's Day

Sir,—Might I be allowed to draw attention to various views on this subject which are held by quite a number of Bible students and which throw considerable light on the matter? Space will not admit of my giving full explanations and details.

As regards the expression, "The Lord's Day" in Revelations 1, 10, this does not mean Sunday (or the Sabbath). Neither the New Testament nor the early Christians ever used that expression in that connection. What it does mean is "The Day of the Lord," God's day of judgment, referred to in Isaiah 61, 2.

The "first day of the week" is also not a correct translation. It may be noticed that the word "day" is invariably in italics, which means that it is not in the original. The Greek word for "week" was never used in this connection by the Evangelists. What they did say was, "the first of the Sabbaths," and the word translated "first" meant the chiefest, the most important, also the word Sabbaths was in the plural.

God instituted two Sabbath systems. The first, or chiefest, at Creation. This was intended to be used up to the time of the Exodus and after the Crucifixion. It was recorded again by Moses in Exodus 20, 11.

The second Sabbath system was a temporary one, to last from the Exodus to the Crucifixion for the use of the Israelites. It was written on tables of stone and given them at Mt. Sinai on Sivan 5th (in that year a Sunday), the Pentecost. This was recorded by Moses in Deuteronomy 5, 15.

The Israelitish (or Jewish) Sabbaths were never continuously on Saturday or any other day; that is, they changed to a different day of the week each year, because they were on the fixed date system, i.e., various days of the month during the year had to be Sabbaths. For instance, the date of the Exodus, Abib (April) 15 had to be a Sabbath, but it could not always be on a Sunday any more than Christmas Day could always be on, say, a Monday.

Though God instituted the Seventh Day Sabbath at Creation, it appears to have been lost sight of subsequently, as we find no less than fifteen different systems of Sabbath keeping in vogue with intervals of from six to ten days between Sabbaths.

Therefore God had to reveal to Moses which was His Holy Day, or Seventh Day Sabbath, and He points out that it is Sivan 5 (June) which, in that year, when He appeared on Mt. Sinai, was a Sunday. Vide Nehemiah 9, 13.

The Christian Sunday is the same day of the week as the Creation Seventh Day Sabbath. Briefly, the proofs are, firstly, our Lord Himself after His Resurrection evidently approved of the change and caused no hint to be given that He was instituting a new system of Sabbaths. On the contrary, all the Evangelists refer to it as the "first of the "Sabbaths," i.e., the chiefest of the Sabbaths, already mentioned by God.

Secondly. Psalm 118, 24. David, pointing to the Sunday of Christ's Resurrection, says: "This is the day the Lord hath made." Thirdly. It is known that the Israelites came out of Egypt on a Saturday, the day after the Egyptian Friday Sabbath, and therefore Sivan 6, the second half of the double Sabbath, was a Sunday, and God revealed that as His Holy Day.

It is admitted that the Passover, Abib 15, was, in the year of our Lord's Crucifixion, on a Saturday (Sabbath), therefore the next day, Abib 16, the Resurrection Day, was a Sunday, and a Sunday was God's Creation Sabbath and the chiefest of the two Sabbaths instituted by Him. Therefore the Christian Sunday is correctly God's Seventh Day Sabbath.

When the veil of the Temple was rent at Christ's Crucifixion it was the sign that the Mosaic ritual (including the Sabbath of Deuteronomy 5) was abolished, an event foretold in Hosea 2, 11.

St. Paul points out that the other Sabbath was not abolished, because in Hebrews 4, 9 he says (American version), "There remaineth therefore a Sabbath-keeping to the people of God."

Leaf Miner on Hollies

Sir,—Will you permit me to draw attention to an insect that is this year doing considerable damage to holly trees?

Its work can easily be seen at the present time; it consists of a large brown spot on the upper surface of the leaves. If this spot is lightly scraped with a knife, or even with the finger nail, the upper surface will readily separate from the lower and the insect will be found between the two layers. At present it varies from a dark brown speck to a light brown worm in varying stages of development. My experience with this insect is that it emerges in the form of a worm at the time the young growth starts, which it at once attacks, often burying itself completely in the immature leaves. Instead of developing, these wither and form a small brown ball; if this is opened the worm, a lively fellow about a quarter of an inch long, will be found.

Trees badly infested have few or no berries and are unsightly.

I have seen this insect for several years past, but only in limited numbers and restricted localities; this year it seems to be widespread and trees are heavily infested.

I have found the most satisfactory results from using nicotine sulphate (black leaf 40 per cent), with a good strong soap spreader applied plentifully to the upper surface of the leaves before the insect emerges. Sufficient nicotine seems to penetrate the upper skin of the leaf to effectually destroy the immature grub. It is very hard to reach after it has emerged and buried itself in the young shoot. One thorough good spraying is preferable to several weak ones.

Educational Week

Sir,—An attempt is being made to convince the public that I was not discriminated against when the notices were sent out to attend that meeting held under the auspices of Victoria School Board, in conference with the various public and semi-public bodies of the city, to arrange for an educational week.

Here are the facts. Let the public judge for themselves: I was in the School Board office on Saturday previous to the Monday evening conference, when the secretary, Mr. Pope, told me that a special meeting of the Board was to be held on Monday evening. Later he confirmed this statement over the telephone, at the same time telling me that the stenographer was preparing the notices which would be sent later in the day by special messenger. Still later, long after the usual time for closing the School Board office on Saturday, he rang me up to say that he had been mistaken, that it was not a meeting for the whole Board but only a committee thereof. I took that as a fairly strong hint that I was not wanted at the meeting, therefore I stayed away.

I have wondered who could have seen Mr. Pope after I did. The committee as named at the regular Board meeting is as follows: Dr. Raynor, Mrs. Spofford, Mrs. Coady-Johnson and Mr. George Jay. Since I have been a member of the Board it has been the custom for the full Board to receive delegations in conference with the Board. Why was this meeting an exception? We are told that the chairman had the right to invite whoever he wished. I do not question that as he was appointed by the Board to arrange for an educational week. He knew that I was opposed to submitting the by-laws, and the fact that he appointed on the committee only those who are in favor of this policy seems to indicate that at that time, at least, his desire to have both sides of the case put before the public was not very strong.

We are told, too, that this educational campaign is not to be understood merely as propaganda in support of the by-laws, but largely to interest the public in the work being done in our schools. It seems rather strange that this entirely disinterested and impartial desire to interest the public in the work of our schools should have this sudden birth one week before the by-laws are to be submitted to a vote of the taxpayers.

To spend thousands of dollars in providing facilities for teaching manual training and domestic science in the High School building, and for building a unit for this purpose, only to find afterwards that very few of the students wanted to take these subjects would be worse than the mistake of last year when a dressmaker was appointed to the staff of the High School to teach dressmaking, to find out afterwards that less than half a dozen girls wanted to take dressmaking as a part of their High School work. I thought the Board was very badly advised then and I think it is being subjected to even worse advice now in regard to these by-laws. It is well for the taxpayers to know that some of these by-laws are to provide for more manual training and domestic science in our grade schools, while many of our Western cities which have tried it are making great reductions in this work, notably Seattle and Edmonton. Seattle is cutting down the expenditures for this work to the amount of $70,000 for this year; Edmonton has cut out all domestic science and manual training in all grades below the entrance classes and the first three years in the High School where it is an optional course. Edmonton has a four years High School course. These cities have tried these subjects in the lower grades to find that it interferes with the thorough teaching of subjects that are more essential. This is also the experience of Oak Bay.

If we are so far behind other places as we sometimes hear it asserted, it seems to me that we are taking a rather peculiar way of catching up to them, when we proposed to take a dressmaker from one of the departmental stores, who never taught a day in her life, and appoint her to the teaching staff of the High School, at a salary of $1,500 a year, to teach dressmaking, and when it is proposed to take a carpenter and give him two hours' instruction a day for six weeks under Capt. Breadner "with a view to acquiring the necessary teaching experience" to take a position as technical instructor on the staff of the High School the first of September, there is certainly something wrong in the system or trained men and women could be secured. Why do we need universities and normal schools when the training necessary to qualify for an instructor on the staff of the High School can be acquired so easily?

Sessional Indemnity

Sir,—As a taxpayer outside of politics, I would say that Canon Hinchliffe's explanation of his share of the salary grab does not appeal favorably to electors. He was elected to represent the people at a salary of $1,500. He well knew that amount was the sessional allowance as did the electorate, thus a contract was established by both parties, and he, when secure in office, takes $400 a year more and tries to justify himself, regardless of the fact that many can ill afford to pay extra taxes on his account, and some of them returned men who need all they have. The good book says, "The laborer is worthy of his hire," but this laborer takes more than his hire. In the same book, chapter 7, Joshua, verse 21, will be found the account of Achan coveting shekels of silver and also God's punishment. St. Luke, chapter 16, there is an account of the unjust steward, and verses 1 to 12 might be said to have a bearing on present-day conditions. Verse 1 of above, chapter 16, says: "There was a certain rich man which had a steward and the same was accused that he had wasted his master's goods," and the 2nd verse says: "Give an account of thy stewardship, for thou mayest be no longer steward." One wonders if there is anyone in authority that can end an unworthy stewardship in British Columbia.

A Protest

Sir,—I have to thank you for many courtesies, to which you have added one by publishing a letter of mine in this morning's issue. I hope you will excuse me, however, if I point out that I did not refer to the great Grecian goddess as "Athence," nor to our titular deity as Britannica. I received the smatterings of an education at an English public school, and it almost makes me shudder even now when I see over my own name mistakes that would have brought me into danger of an unpleasant interview with the headmaster.

The Liquor Bill

Sir,—In your generally excellent report of my meeting held in the Princess Theatre, which report appears in your issue of today, there is one mistake which I feel I cannot allow to pass unnoticed.

On page 11, column 5, two lines from the bottom, there is this paragraph:

"Not an Honest Effort.

"He did not consider the bill an honest attempt to carry out the spirit of the plebiscite——."

What follows is quite satisfactory, but the portion I have quoted is incorrect.

I was speaking of the Liquor Act as it was originally introduced. I declared that in the House I had criticised the bill from three standpoints, and that I considered that (1) it was a fair and honest attempt to give effect to the wishes of the people as expressed at the plebiscite, but that it needed certain improvements; (2) that it contained clauses that would filch away some of the fundamental privileges of British citizenship, and (3) that it did not contain certain things that the Premier, by his manifesto, had led the people of the Province to look for.

B. C. E. R. to Make No Extensions Yet

Mr. T. Blundell Brown, London Director, States Company Marking Time Until New Capital Obtained—Only Conservative Financing Allowed It to Continue Until Present

There will be no extensions made by the B.C. Electric Railway Company in the Province for some time at least. Upon his arrival from Vancouver on Saturday Mr. T. Blundell Brown, director of the company, stated that there was no money for any development work at the present time and there would not be until such times as conditions improved to such an extent that British investors would again be willing to supply the needed capital.

As far as the local situation was concerned, Mr. Brown did not know of any business available that would warrant extensions to the railway system either in Victoria or in the outlying districts. Even if there was the business, there was no available capital to do the work, he pointed out. It was only the conservative conduct of the company's business, with the placing of moneys in reserve instead of paying it all out in dividends, that made it possible for the B.C.E.R. to carry on as long as it had in the face of the conditions that had existed for some years past.

The vacillating policy in regard to Government supervision of the public utilities had made the company's position a difficult one and had rather frightened British capital, said Mr. Brown. The confidence of the investors of the Old Country must be restored, he added. "Anything that British Columbia can do to bring this about," he went on, "will be of great value to the Province." He saw no particular desire of the British capitalist to place his money in Canada. The unrest in the Old Country was but a passing phase, he said, and had not lessened investments.

No Money in Business

"There is no money in the street railway business, I can assure you," declared Mr. Brown. There seemed to be an opinion prevailing in some quarters, he remarked, that it was a veritable gold mine. The returns in the best of times were so low Canadians would not invest.

The financial position of the B.C. Electric Railway had considerable influence in the English money market as far as Canadian investments were concerned, said Mr. Brown. He is a director of the British Empire Trust, which has placed many millions of Old Country capital in this country.

Mr. Brown believes that the peak in labor and equipment costs has been reached. Ordinary replacements made necessary by depreciation will be carried out, but no large amount of new equipment will be purchased by the company for the present.

The street railway systems of British Columbia are the finest in Canada, asserted Mr. Brown, who has seen those of all the large Canadian cities. This Province leads both in equipment, service, and politeness of employees, he claimed.

The B.C. Electric Railway has commenced to make the extensive changes necessary to comply with the new rule of the road. It will mean an outlay of about a million dollars, stated Mr. Brown. The company could ill afford to spend this money at the present time, he added.

Seeks Co-operation

During his stay on the Coast Mr. Brown had found that, generally speaking, the public shows a favorable attitude toward the company. "We are all partners in this business. If we pull together we will come out all right," he remarked. The company had to please the public and at the same time make it worth the shareholder's while to keep money in the business. It was advantageous to the British Columbia public, he declared, that the B.C. Electric should prosper, for upon this depended the service which the public would obtain.

Mr. Brown expressed a hope that the franchise negotiations now going on between Vancouver and the company would lead to an improvement in the concern's position.

Mr. Brown, who is accompanied by Mrs. Brown, will remain here a few days and will then start East on his way to the Old Country. He made his last trip to the Coast eight years ago. He has been a director of the B. C. Electric Railway Company for the past eighteen years, and emphatically declares that at no time during that period has the street railway business proved worth while financially, although he is willing to admit that the lighting and power departments of the business do not hold the same position.

TO CONFER ON CHANGE IN RULE OF ROAD

Rolling Stock of B. C. Electric Railway Will Be Altered Soon In Anticipation of New Law Taking Effect

A conference of B. C. Electric Railway officials will be held in the near future to decide on a definite programme for the adoption of the change in the rule of the road. So many alterations will have to be made in the rolling stock as well as in connection with the tracks and switches that the company staff realizes the need of working out a general plan as early as possible, and already on the Mainland certain changes are being carried out.

Mr. G. M. Tripp, superintendent of the company in Victoria, states that so far no changes have been made in the local system.

As soon as the contemplated changes are carried out in the street cars it will be a hard matter to get any of the motormen to speak in pleasant terms regarding the rule of the road, because they will be deprived of some of the comforts which they now are able to enjoy. They will be compelled to drive on "open-end cars," which, while they may be quite all right during the warm days, are not so agreeable in the cold weather.

The first car to be prepared on the Mainland for the new conditions has entered the shops, and 250 altogether will be made over in Vancouver. In order that the system may not be disrupted, the company is making gradual changes and two or three cars are being taken to the shops to undergo temporary alterations.

What is being done consists of opening up the blind slids of the front and rear platforms, opposite the steps used in alighting and entering. This former solid side is being ripped out and slats will be installed temporarily. One step also is being placed on the blind side. A second step will be placed later on, but not until trackage and other street operating changes have been made. It is stated that driving and motor conditions on the cars need not be changed to any great extent, the principal changes being those to provide for receiving and discharging passengers from the vehicles under the new conditions. In many instances the seating conditions of street cars will be completely reversed when the time comes for driving to the right.

NORTHERN LIGHTS OUT

Fine Display of Phenomena Friday and Saturday Nights — Many Colors and Forms Seen

Daylight Saving has deprived thousands of early-to-bedders of a fine free spectacular entertainment, there having been wonderful displays of Northern Lights both Friday and Saturday evenings. Rarely have such brilliant and distinctive colors been seen in connection with the demonstration of the phenomena here, and the display seems to have taken more forms than usual, long pencils of violet light, green-shaped cones, and ghostly waves of yellow being among the phases observed. Those who recently heard the lecture by Mr. Harper, of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, on the subject of the Northern Lights would have found the exhibition all the more interesting, and it will be recalled that on that occasion he referred to the fact that Victoria came within a higher frequency" zone than any of the country to the south. The "Arc," "Band," "Converging," "Coronal," "Patch," and most of the other forms described on that occasion have been observed here from time to time. "Years of many sunspots have been observed to be years of many auroras," stated Mr. Harper in his recent lecture in trying to arrive at some conclusion as to the cause of the latter. This he gave under a summary showing the relation of the two: "When the magnetic storm from the sun clashes with the magnetic forces of the earth, then there is a magnetic display in the form of Northern Lights."

DRIVING WHILE DRUNK

City Magistrate Imposes Prison Sentence for Second Offence of Alcoholic Joy Riding

Two months' imprisonment with hard labor was the sentence imposed on Charles A. Tuttle by Magistrate Jay, in the City Police Court yesterday, after the accused had pleaded guilty to the charge of being under the influence of liquor while driving a motor car in the city, there being a previous conviction against the accused of a similar offence.

Police Constables Macpherson and Jones testified that in consequence of complaints received by telephone as to a motor accident in Esquimalt, in the early hours of Sunday morning, in which the accused was alleged to be implicated, they arrested him on Government Street, where they found him trying to drive his car, and making a very erratic job of it. The accused was drunk, and incapable of driving the car, they said.

Magistrate Jay said that he need not remind the accused of the seriousness of this offence. As this was the second offence of this kind of which the accused had been convicted, the magistrate had no option but to impose a prison sentence. The accused would serve two months with hard labor.

Hill Says Wife Kept Going Down Hill Until She Got Tanlac

"Tanlac relieved my wife six months ago of a bad case of nervous indigestion and she has been in the best of health ever since," said John Hill, of Smith Hill, Manitoba.

"About four years ago she had a nervous breakdown and was confined to her bed for two months. After that spell she seemed to be unable to get back her appetite or her strength. What she did eat caused her all manner of troubles from indigestion. She was so nervous the least noise would upset her, and at night she would roll and toss by the hour. She was all run-down and in a miserable condition generally. I spent a lot of money trying to get something to relieve her, but she grew worse, instead of better.

"But she began to improve almost as soon as she started on Tanlac, and now it does me good to see how much she enjoys her food, and how everything agrees with her. She has gained considerably in weight, sleeps like a child at night, says she feels fine and in fact no longer seems like the same person. So I have mighty good reason to be strong for Tanlac and I can recommend it highly."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by Duncan E. Campbell and leading druggists. (Adv.)

TRADE UNIONS MAKE TYRANNICAL DEMANDS

Mr. Alexander Thomson, Parliamentary Secretary for the M. L. C., Here From England, Expresses Views

"I think from all I could see before I left England that the Government is going to remain firm, feeling it would be better for them to suffer a good deal at the present time than to give in. A great many people feel that the trades unions, which at one time had a perfectly legitimate place in the scheme of things in controlling despotic mastership, are themselves really becoming tyrannical. The men who are working for the unions, the leaders, are too often merely personally selfish in their aims and have not the real interests of the workers at heart. They are, in fact, destructive rather than constructive."

This is the reply given Saturday by Mr. Alexander Thomson, parliamentary secretary for the M.L.C. (Motor Legislative Committee), to a question addressed to him by a Colonist reporter. Mr. Thomson had just arrived from England to visit his daughter, Mrs. Llewellyn, 1440 St. Patrick Street, Oak Bay, with whom he will stay for some ten days before starting East again. He has a three months' holiday, during which he will enjoy many weeks in Canada, having accepted an invitation to lecture under the auspices of the Dominion Chautauqua, which commences its series in Victoria this week. He will not join them until they reach Moose Jaw, however, so Victoria will not have an opportunity of hearing his story of "English Statesmen as I Know Them," which is to be the subject of his lectures for the organization from the time it leaves the prairie town on its journey to the Atlantic seaboard cities.

An Important Position

Mr. Thomson confided that he had been engaged in Government work in England "for more years than he would like to tell," but stated without any reluctance that before he undertook his present responsibilities in January, 1919, he had for three years been head organizer for the Prime Minister of England, helping Mr. Lloyd George to form his Government in 1916. It was just on the eve of his departure from the Old Land that the most critical moment of the present miners' strike happened, and before he sailed he had the satisfaction of seeing the refusal of the railwaymen and transport workers, the other members of "The Triple Alliance," to join a movement which would have spelt disaster for England had it organized on such a general scale as hoped for by the agitators. The eleventh hour address to Parliament by Mr. Hodges, secretary of the Miners' Union, in which he agreed to temporary settlement on the basis of negotiation, was followed by the withdrawal from their position of the railway workers, who, in fact, were only too glad to get the opportunity to do so, Mr. Thomson claims, as they found that there were only sixty per cent of the railway men and transport workers who were in favor of striking. Had the strike involved the three unions, about two million men would have been involved, and the business of the country would have been seriously held up while negotiations for settlement were under way.

Miners Incensed

"The miners are so angry at the other men drawing out that united action may not be possible," stated Mr. Thomson, who pointed out the evident evil of all three unions combining. "They are really bitter because the railway and transport men have 'let them down.'"

Mr. Thomson described J. H. Thomas, secretary of the Railway Union, as a moderate man. He had read with some surprise of the reception which he had in New York by a number of American-Irish, who paraded the city with banners reading: "Judas hanged himself; what is Thomas going to do?"

"I have been a reader of The Colonist for some time," stated Mr. Thomson during the interview. It appears that he has received papers from his daughter. In England the paper-shortage has been seriously felt for some years, and the size of publications in this country has, therefore, seemed somewhat extravagant to Old Country eyes. He himself has had some journalistic experience, having written numerous articles for London papers, while during the war he had some responsibility in running a magazine giving a monthly summary of the parliamentary proceedings.

GASOLINE PRICES ON DOWNWARD GRADE

Further Cuts in the United States Coast Section Likely to Have Effect on Quotations In This Province

The possibility of a further drop in the price of gasoline in bright, according to the local dealers. Prices of oils of all varieties are steadily dropping in the United States, and on Friday announcement was made there by the big oil producing concerns that gasoline had been cut another two cents, making the price at service stations 28 cents.

Two weeks ago there was a decline of two cents in the price of gasoline in Victoria, from 42 cents to 41 cents per gallon at service stations, with the wholesale price being reduced to 28 cents per gallon. So far, it was stated, there is no intimation that any further decline will be made, but in view of the fact that oil prices have been steadily going down in the United States it is very possible that still further declines in gasoline and other oils will shortly be made.

While Victoria's gasoline supply comes from crude oil imported from Peru by the Imperial Oil Company, the fact that declines have occurred in the United States supplies would not necessarily mean a decline here, except that in the face of the enormous production in the latter country, and especially in California, prices of the product of other fields on the Pacific Coast would undoubtedly be more or less affected by the decline in the States, where a drop of forty-five cents in crude oil has taken place within the past few weeks.

RAILWAY WRECKERS INJURE TEN PERSONS

BLOOMINGTON, Ills., May 16.—Ten persons were injured, one seriously, when the westbound Chicago & Alton "Hummer" ran into coal cars on a siding six miles south of Bloomington last night.

The train ran in on the passing track at Shirley through an open switch. The target rod was loosened and turned so that the lights could not be discerned. The train crashed into a string of coal cars.

The derailment was a "deliberate attempt" at wrecking by unknown parties, according to the dispatcher, who stated that the switch light showed green, or clear signal, while the switch was turned and threw the engine onto the switch.

"There is no chance of this office being closed yet," he said, "although the staff is being curtailed as we go along. Still, I don't see how we can close down for some considerable time."

Saanich Teachers' Arbitration—At last night's meeting of the Saanich School Board, after Chairman Holloway had spoken generally on the teachers' arbitration matter, it was resolved that Clerk Cowper be instructed to write the Teachers' Institute, enclosing copies of correspondence which had been received, and inform the teachers that their contract now is incapable of being carried out, and that it would be impossible to have a referendum taken before June 1.

Car Rides Proposed—Ald. Eugene Woodward, chairman of the Home Committee, proposed that a dollar be set aside each week for street car transportation for the inmates of the Old Men's Home. He said they did not get much variety in life and, owing to lack of funds, had to walk whenever they wanted to go anywhere. He said that arrangements might be made with the B.C. Electric Railway to sell school children's tickets to the city for the use of the men.

Breaks Discussion—In the midst of discussing the school expenditures proposed at two of the Saanich schools, Chairman Holloway at last night's session of the Saanich School Board, interjected, "The berry-growers hurt themselves greatly by their action in raising berries to twenty cents a pound," which remark was followed by Trustee Thorne stating that he thought that the matter was no one for the board to ponder over. Mr. W. J. Taylor, K.C., for the plaintiff, and Mr. E. C. Mayers, for the defendant, will conclude their arguments today.

Gorge Scenic Railway—At a meeting of the Esquimalt Police Commission yesterday afternoon, Reeve Lockley, the chairman, remarked that there was some question in his mind as to the safety of the scenic railway at the Gorge. It was found that the matter did not quite come under the powers of the police commission, and it was left to the reeve to take what action he sees fit in the public interest. The reeve stated he would ask the chief engineer of the B.C. Electric to furnish a certificate as to the safety of the structure.

Support Saanich Plea—The directors of the Chamber of Commerce voted yesterday to support the representations being made to the Provincial Government that Beach Drive should be classed as a secondary road, and the Saanich Council will be asked whether it would like a Chamber of Commerce committee to accompany any deputation it may send to the Government. It was pointed out that 90 per cent of the motor travel over the road was from points outside the municipality. The Chamber has been advised by the Department of Public Works that it will soon be ready to call for tenders for the paving of the Island Highway from Colwood towards Luxton.

Paving Government Street — Cars will be running on Government Street between Yates and Humboldt Street by May 24, and city construction gangs will start laying asphalt along this strip next Thursday. Acting Mayor George Sangster, who is chairman of the Street Committee, announced to the City Council last night. The Council had before it letters from the Victoria Automobile Club and the Real Estate Board of Victoria, urging that the Government Street paving be expedited owing to the serious loss to business. The Council finally disposed of the plan to make use of the old E. & N. span at Rock Bay by filing the City Engineer's estimate, which totalled about $90,000.

Educational Week — A joint luncheon of the Gyro and Kumtuks Clubs at the Chautauqua tent yesterday at noon marked the first public event of Educational Week. The speakers were Trustee George Jay, Mrs. H. W. Graves and Mr. Harold Cross, of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Jay emphasized the need for increased accommodation at the city schools, pointing out that in April last year 5,668 children were enrolled, while in April of this year the attendance was 6,134. Mrs. Graves gave her ideas of school playgrounds, with special provision for play on rainy days. Mr. Cross talked on the physical welfare of boys, and urged that better recreational facilities be provided. The Chautauqua bell ringers were an added attraction.

Fairfield Scouts—A very successful meeting of the Fairfield Boy Scouts' Association was held last evening in the 900 block, Courtney Street, where an old barn has been secured for headquarters. A hearty standing vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Slater for work done voluntarily in connection with the troop. It was arranged that the Fairfield Troop should co-operate with the other troops in the city in arranging one big camp this Summer. This will be during August.

Donations to scout equipment were welcomed from Mrs. Capt. Clarke, Mrs. R. B. Chrow, Mr. Oliver and Mr. Hill. The following were present: Mrs. F. W. Raven, presiding, Mrs. Livsey, Mrs. Godwin, Mr. and Mrs. Frampton, Mr. and Mrs. Bissell, Mr. Raven and Mr. Slater.

"3 K's" at Metchosin—An excellent concert was given in Metchosin Hall on Friday evening by the "3 K's Concert Party," of Victoria. Owing to some counter-attractions being held in neighboring districts and in Victoria on the same evening, the attendance was not as large as had been expected. The programme included songs, ventriloquism, conjuring, sketches, and a nigger troupe. Two of the male members made up as fine looking girls. During a conjuring act several members of the audience were invited to the platform and took part in a "spiritualistic stunt"—by laying their hands on a table and all lifting them at the same time were able to carry it, suspended from the tips of their fingers, for some distance across the stage. After the concert refreshments were served and the floor cleared for dancing, which was kept up till 1 o'clock. Fanthorpe's orchestra from Victoria supplied the music. The proceeds were given in aid of the new vicarage.

Awarding Contracts Withheld—Contracts for the plumbing and the construction of a concrete basement at Cloverdale School, and the addition of four rooms, plumbing installation and heating apparatus for Tillicum School were under consideration at last night's gathering of the Saanich School Board. It was finally decided on the motion of Trustee A. E. Hall, that the contracts be let at a meeting of the board to be held next Monday evening, and that before that date that the Government be approached re the usual one-third grant which the board customarily receives.

Wind on the Stomach Quickly Relieved

It is a good thing to know just what to do when gas belching starts. One sufferer relates the following experience—"A few months ago I ate some green vegetables and some fruit that was not quite ripe. It brought on indigestion, hiccoughs, nausea and cramps. I belched gas continually. A neighbor urged me to use 'Nerviline.' I took it in hot sweetened water, and got quick relief. I will never again be without this valuable remedy." Nerviline is a household remedy, large 35c bottles sold everywhere. (Advt.)

The Old, Old Song

When all the world is young, lad,
And all the trees are green;
And every goose a swan, lad,
And every lass a queen;
Then hey for boot and horse, lad,
And round the world away;
Young blood must have its course, lad,
And every dog his day.

When all the world is old, lad,
And all the trees are brown;
And all the sport is stale, lad,
And all the wheels run down;
Creep home, and take your place there,
The spent and maim'd among;
God grant you find one face there
You loved when you were young.

VALUABLE CITIZEN ANSWERS LAST CALL

Mr. William Fernie, Pioneer Prospector, Miner and Capitalist, Passes Away at Advanced Age of 84

British Columbia lost one of her earliest, most valuable and distinguished residents on Sunday at noon when Mr. William Fernie, pioneer prospector, miner and capitalist, passed away at his home, 2227 Oak Bay Avenue. He died at the advanced age of eighty-four years, after a most interesting career of adventure and research. In November of last year he was the victim of a stroke, and was making good progress towards recovery when he had the misfortune to fall and fracture his leg. Since the accident he has been confined to his bed, but was always found to be in good spirits, and was hopeful of being up and about sometime this Spring, and able again to attend to his beautiful garden and grounds, on which he had been in the habit of devoting much fond attention. But his call had arrived, and he passed away peacefully on Sunday, to the surprise of many of his friends who had been optimistic of his chances of recovery.

Mr. Fernie had no relatives locally, but quite an extensive list of attached friends, and his passing leaves a most noticeable gap in the ranks of the early settlers. He leaves two sisters in England, and nieces and nephews also in the Old Country.

A brother, Peter Fernie, veteran of the Crimean War and Indian Mutiny, who accompanied William on many of his travels and adventures, died here several years ago.

Adventurous Traits

The late Mr. William Fernie was of joint English and Scottish ancestry, which possibly accounts for his adventurous traits. He was born in 1837, in the little country town of Kimbolton, Huntingdonshire, England, son of Thomas Fernie, a medical practitioner, who attended the Duke of Manchester of his time.

Attaining the years of manhood, William showed no inclination to settle down in England, but elected for a career of travel and excitement. He left home and led an adventurous life in Australia, New Zealand, South and North America before definitely settling in British Columbia and selecting this region as an area in which to conduct prospecting for minerals. He arrived in the Province in 1860, and after several years of mining was appointed gold commissioner of the Province, which post he held 1873-'82. In 1887 he located the immense coal deposits at the Crow's Nest, and in company with the late Colonel Baker, was one of the promoters of the B.C. Southern Railway and the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company.

During his activities in the Crow's Nest he became founder of the town of Fernie, to which his name was given.

Mr. Fernie erected his residence at Oak Bay twenty years ago, and being largely retired from "active service," devoted himself to the cultivation of a garden in which he succeeded with wonderful results as his place now testifies.

Mr. Fernie always gave largely to charities, and was noted as a philanthropist.

At Mr. Fernie's express wish his remains will be cremated, being taken to Vancouver last night for that purpose. On the return of the ashes they will be deposited in the plot where lies his brother Peter's remains at Ross Bay.

B. Deaville. The church was crowded, and many followed the remains to their last resting place in Ross Bay Cemetery. At the church the congregation, led by the choir, sung three hymns, "Jerusalem, the Golden," "Servant of God Well Done," and "Forever With the Lord." At the graveside Rev. Mr. Batty, Revs Dr. Sipprell, and Rev. Dr. White concluded the services. Many beautiful floral tributes covered the casket and hearse. Among those present were delegations from the A.O.U.W. and W.O.W., of which orders deceased was a member. The following acted as pallbearers: Messrs. Wm. H. Bone, Arthur Lee, W. B. Deaville, W. H. The hymns sung were: "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Forever With the Lord." The remains were forwarded on the afternoon boat to Vancouver for burial in the family plot beside her husband, who predeceased her some years ago.

HACKETT—There died at 3 o'clock Sunday morning at his parents' home, 1133 Yates Street, little James Gordon Hackett, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Hackett. Born February 11, 1913, the boy had never been of very robust constitution. A heart ailment first overtook him four years ago. He waged a successful fight against it until approximately a week ago, when his strength proved unequal to an acute attack, death resulting Sunday. Besides his parents, one sister, Yetive Marie, survives him. The funeral will take place today, when a service will be held at 2 p.m. at the Sands Funeral Parlors. Interment will be made later in Ross Bay Cemetery.

MR. M. H. NELEMS MET END IN CADBORO BAY

Former Provincial Official Disappears From Home Sunday Night—Body Found in Water Yesterday Morning

Missing from his home since shortly before 6 o'clock on Sunday evening, the body of Mr. Melbourne Henry Nelems, aged 44, of 23 Marlborough Avenue, was discovered yesterday morning at 8:50 floating in the water at Cadboro Bay, near the Victoria Yacht Club premises.

The discovery was made by Mr. Herbert Saunders and Mr. James McDonald, who promptly notified the Oak Bay police authorities, and the body was recovered and removed to the B.C. Funeral Parlors, where it is lying pending the inquest which will be held there this morning at 11 o'clock.

For some time lately Mr. Nelems had been in ill-health and suffering from a nervous breakdown, and when, following his departure from his home on Sunday evening, he failed to return, fears for his safety were entertained and the police authorities were notified. No trace of the missing man was secured Sunday night, and his fate was unknown until the body as stated was found yesterday.

The late Mr. Nelems had been a resident of this city since July 27, 1917, when he was appointed a member of the Provincial Land Settlement Board representing the Fraser Valley and Southern Mainland section. Prior to that he had been a resident of New Westminster. At one time he lived at Vancouver, where he was employed in the business office of The World newspaper. Following reorganization of the Land Settlement Board in January, 1919, upon the retirement of Mr. Maxwell Smith as chairman of that body, Mr. Nelems was made chairman, an office he held until February of last year, when he was retired. Since then he had been residing with his family in Victoria. He leaves his widow and five children, four daughters and one son, Harry, who is at present attending the Guelph Agricultural College.

CONSTRUCTION COSTS ARE INQUIRED INTO

Real Estate Board Heard Interesting Review of Building Charges Situation at Their Luncheon Yesterday

At the Real Estate Board luncheon at the Criterion yesterday, a very interesting review of the building situation was made. The guests were Mr. Keith, architect, and Messrs. Luney and Dale, builders. Mr. Keith said a house of six rooms could be built for about $800 per room, as compared with $500 before the war. Mr. Luney and Mr. Dale gave much practical information. The price had come down to what was regarded as a reasonable figure. Sand and gravel were 100 per cent above pre-war figures. Bricks were $19 a thousand, as compared with $13. The wood used in burning brick cost $6.50 per cord, as compared with $3. The labor had also greatly increased. The carpenters' day had increased 33 per cent as to cost.

The plumbing item also, it was noted, was high, and, in spite of two reductions of about 6 to 10 per cent, was still about 100 per cent over the pre-war price, and plumbing work showed the least inclination to come down. The lumber bill bears heavily on the workman's house, as there is little more lumber required in a seven-room house than in a four-room one. Painting has come down very considerably. Electric work is high, and all building hardware continues to go up.

The talk will probably be followed by a concerted study of this very vital subject. The contractors showed that they had done something towards neutralizing the increased costs by certain economies and figuring in a smaller margin.

Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisianna, Mississippi, the Carolinas, Texas and Virginia have gone Democratic in every election for two generations.

Lame Back? Stiff? Achy?

The man who gets up in the morning all out of sorts—with lame back, stiff limbs, a dull "achy" head, better look out for himself—maybe his kidneys are to blame.

Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the feet, ankles and wrists.

As a remedy for these easily recognized symptoms of inflammation caused by uric acid—as scalding urine, backache and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, gout, it is simply wonderful how quickly An-uric acts.

Anuric (anti-uric acid) is a recent scientific discovery by Doctor Pierce of the invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N.Y. Send 10c there for a large trial package, or sold by druggists, 60c.

LAKE HILL RESIDENT KILLED BY C.N.R. TRAIN

Mr. James Channon Struck While Walking on Right-of-Way Near His Home—Succumbs at Hospital

Fatally injured when he was run down by a train on the Canadian National line near Lake Hill, Saanich, about 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning, Mr. James Channon, a resident of that district, died at the Royal Jubilee Hospital within an hour of his being rushed to that institution.

Investigation by the police authorities showed that Channon, who was deaf and dumb, was walking on the track when the passenger train came along, city-bound. The train was rounding a curve and Channon, unable to hear its approach, made no attempt to get off the track, while the engineer presumably expected he would hear the whistle and would do so. Channon was thrown some distance and badly mangled. The train was brought to a stop and the injured man picked up and brought into the city, the train being met by the ambulance of Cameron & Calwell, in which he was conveyed to the hospital and attended by Dr. Raynor, but, despite every effort to save his life, he succumbed shortly after his arrival at the hospital.

The late Mr. Channon was unmarried and about forty-five years of age. He had been living with his brother, Mr. William Channon, at Lake Hill. An inquest will be held.

AURORA'S GUNS SPEAK TODAY

Firing in Straits Will Not Be Heavy, However — Small Calibre Bullets Replace Shells in Practice

For the purpose of engaging in gunnery practice, H.M.C.S. Aurora will leave Esquimalt this morning for a cruise about the Straits, returning to harbor Wednesday night. The power schooner Valiant, formerly an American fishing boat, but seized for some infraction of the Canadian regulations, will accompany the Aurora, and will be used to tow makeshift targets at a fast pace along the distant waters the while the marksmen of the cruiser have a little firing practice.

No deafening sound of guns will, however, assail the ears of the people of the city, nor will there be any spectacular jets of water leaping upwards from the sea at the impact of the shells with the surface. Such wasteful methods of training have been abandoned and now, by an ingenious sub-calibre arrangement, small calibre bullets take the place of the large and costly shells in firing practice, yet demand the same accuracy from the gun-layer and give the same proof of direction on the target.

Nothing Unusual

The rounds that the Aurora will discharge at the moving target in the Straits will be fired in the ordinary course of training as part of the regular schedule. It is carried out all the year through and is part of the routine work of the squadron. While at Comox floating targets were engaged on several occasions, the destroyers acting as towboats for each other and for the Aurora.

Torpedo Running

Other manoeuvres of, for these waters, an equally novel nature were carried on off Comox in connection with submarine work. The Patriot and Patrician went outside the harbor and coursed back and forth across its mouth. The Aurora assumed the duties of a lurking submarine and released torpedoes at them from her vantage point within the harbor. The torpedo in use carried a dummy head, but was quite efficient in every other respect.

The complements of the three vessels spent a considerable portion of their time doing musketry practice in Goose Spit while at Comox also. The range was somewhat in disrepair through long disuse since the departure of the 104th Battalion overseas in 1916, and required some attention from the naval fatigue parties before it was in working order.

The Aurora departs alone on her jaunt today except for the companionship of the Valiant. The Patrician is in the hands of the electricians for some needed work prior to the return trip to Halifax, and the Patriot is at the Victoria Machinery Depot.

DEVELOPMENT IN NORTH

That the northern sections of the Province, in the mining districts along the Coast as well as in the agricultural country along the line of the G.T.P., are attracting capital and settlers and the development inaugurated a few years years ago is being rapidly increased, is the opinion of Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, who returned on Sunday from a three weeks' visit to the North, during the course of which he spent some time in his own riding of Prince Rupert, and visited points along the line of railway as far east as Prince George. The Minister was enthusiastic about conditions in that section and stated he returns south more than ever convinced that it is in that direction that the greatest progress will be made in this Province.

It was Hon. Mr. Pattullo's first visit north since the recent session, and it gave him opportunity to study existing conditions and get in touch with development.

Every vessel going north, he stated yesterday, is packed with people going into the North, either to actively participate in the mining development or settle upon the fertile areas open for the agriculturist. It is significant that the southbound travel is much less than that going north, an indication that the natural resources of the great northern territory is attracting widespread attention.

WEDDINGS

Partridge-Moffat

A quiet wedding took place on May 7 at Mount Pleasant Church, Vancouver, B.C., when Miss Marie Moffat, of this city, became the bride of Mr. William Partridge, of Devonshire, England. Rev. A. F. Baker officiated at the ceremony. The bride looked charming in a frock of navy georgette, beautifully beaded, over navy charmeuse satin, her picture hat being to match. She carried a shower bouquet of narcissus and orange-blossom. She was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Henry Callow, of Victoria, B.C., and attended by her sister, Mrs. Callow, as matron-of-honor, Mr. Sidney Partridge acting as best man. After a trip to Honolulu and Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. Partridge will make their home in Vancouver.

Gerow-Blenkhorn

A very pretty home wedding, of interest to many young people in Victoria and on the Mainland, was solemnized at 532 Princess Avenue, Victoria, yesterday, when Euia Belle Blenkhorn, only daughter of Mrs. P. Foley, and William Gordon, second son of Augustus and Mrs. Gerow, of Victoria West, were united in marriage, the Rev. Dr. H. N. Maclean, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, performing the ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. The bride, who was given away by her stepfather, Mr. P. Foley, looked charming in a suit of navy tricotine, with hat en suite, the bridal bouquet being of white carnations and pink rosebuds. The bridesmaid, Miss Edra McLellan, wore a becoming dress of Pekin blue silk with corsage bouquet and picture hat. Sidney Jenkins supported the groom. Miss Eileen Foster played the Wedding March, and little Johnnie Brown, page, presented the bride with a bouquet of roses. The house was tastefully decorated with ferns and pink and white carnations. The table decorations, attended to by Mesdames Foster and McLellan, were most attractive, adding to the enjoyment of the numerous guests who sat down to the sumptuous dinner. Gifts of silver and china were both numerous and costly, a handsome silver tea service being presented by the employees of the Begg Motor Company, with which the groom is associated. The staff of the Groceteria (David Spencers' Limited), gave the bride a silver casserole. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold ring set with amethysts and pearls, and to the groomsman a silver cigar case. The happy couple, followed by the good wishes of a large circle of friends, left in the afternoon for a motor tour of the Island. On their return they will make their home at 1316 Gladstone Avenue, where, after June 1, they will be "at home" to their friends.

WEEK OF OPPORTUNITY OPENS AT CHAUTAUQUA

Miss Agnes Laut Headed First Evening's Programme Which Was Enthusiastically Received by Audience

Yesterday afternoon, in opening Chautauqua, Dr. Raynor, of Victoria, spoke of the week's performance as "A Week of Opportunities" for this city, for not only will exceptionally fine talent be displayed daily, but also the net proceeds will be devoted to the Jubilee Hospital New Building Fund. At the close of his address, Dr. Raynor introduced Miss Smith, supervisor of Chautauqua. Yesterday's programme consisted in the afternoon of the Bell Ringers, singers and ringers, who delighted the audience with their tuneful songs and melodious bell-ringing.

In the evening the programme commenced with the Bell Ringers, after which Miss Agnes Laut addressed the audience, choosing as her subject "Canada at the Cross Roads."

"Yes," Miss Laut announced, "I believe in one big union; that of labor and capital of East and West, of imperialism and anti-imperialism, of the manufacturer and the farmer, and of every fractional section. I believe in the one big union of a unified Canada, with her eye on the one star, her natural destiny; to hold the freedom she has gained in war."

The capacity house which Miss Laut addressed last night was held spellbound while the speaker dealt in a masterly manner with the facts of her subject, and interpreted her powerful statements with the minutest details, and an array of figures which brought home to her listeners a living picture of Canada's situation. "Canada is one of the largest nations in the world; and her natural resources make her one of the richest countries in the world, and we are not producing one-tenth of what the world demands from us," was one of the sweeping yet true statements which was heard last night.

Miss Laut touched upon the production of wheat, oil, pulp wood and coal, and referring to the last mentioned she asked: "We need to pay our war debt; why are you not getting coal delivered to those nations who are shrieking for it? In the United States the natural resources are flowing out while ours are lying dormant."

Miss Laut sees the solution to the problem of the situation by "thawing the dormant wealth into liquid wealth; capital and labor must come into team work." The question of unemployment and the influx of aliens was also dealt with in a vivid manner. All who were privileged to hear Miss Agnes C. Laut's magnificent address cannot fail to bear in mind her remarks, her warnings and her advice.

Chautauqua takes its name from Chautauqua Lake, New York, where fifty years ago a clergyman and a great singer who happened to be visiting him decided to get the community together for a musical treat. From that small beginning has grown an institution which covers the United States, New Zealand, Australia, Canada, and is being welcomed in England.

The Dominion Chautauqua operates exclusively in the four Western Provinces of Canada and this year appears in five hundred and twenty-six towns. The Rocky Mountain circuit is the earliest to open, and Victoria is the opening town. The talent which is here this week will appear in seventy-five other towns, including Vancouver, Edmonton and Calgary, the latter having two Chautauquas.

Much credit is due the local committee which brings the Chautauqua, and gives for it much of its time and support. They have pledged the sale of 500 season tickets.

The tent at the corner of Pandora Avenue and Vancouver Street has a seating capacity of one thousand, and it is expected that many will attend during the week.

Today the Chautauqua will present the "Dixie Girls of the Old Dominion" in songs and costumed story in the afternoon, and for the evening programme the Dixie Girls will open the event, and be followed by a lecture by Arthur W. Evans on "What Western Democracy Means to Me."

The scheduled hour for commencing has been altered, the afternoon meeting will open at 3.15 and the evening at 8.15 o'clock.

Whistling Hole

A hole in the ground that makes a whistling sound has been discovered in a forest near Henryville, Ind. The hunter that discovered it was attracted by leaves which were blown into the air. There was no wind. He put water over the hole and it bubbled. But there was no heat. The hole was deepened and the whistle continued. The impression that natural gas was causing the pressure was accepted. But when lighted matches were held over the hole they were extinguished. The nearby residents are worried as to the cause of the phenomenon.

GYMNASIUM DISPLAY LARGELY ATTENDED

Victoria High School Was Crowded When Annual Scholastic Affair Was Held —Enjoyable Dance Followed

Great enthusiasm was manifested by over one thousand people who crowded the gymnasium of the Victoria High School last Friday and Saturday evenings, when a gymnasium display was given by the pupils of the preliminary and junior grades of that institution. The affair was undoubtedly the finest ever presented by the scholars of the school, and the large number of spectators present were unanimous in the opinion that the various drills and dances were admirably executed.

The girls of the different classes represented in the display gave a wand drill, the minuet de la reine, a Swedish drill, a club and an esthetic drill, all of which were excellently presented. A French doll dance was given by Miss Jennie Andros, and this event was one of the features of the evening. Bernice Rudd delighted her audience with her graceful interpretation of the "Flower Dance."

The contributions of the boys at the affair was for the most part apparatus work, which consisted of three sections. The first part was devoted to exercises on the parallel bars, which were received with much applause. Then followed their endeavors on the horse, and here their long training was displayed to splendid advantage. Various physical manoeuvres were their last addition to the programme, which was pleasing and enjoyable.

On Saturday night, at the conclusion of the display, dancing was indulged in by the performers and those in attendance. The gymnasium floor was in perfect condition, and was crowded with couples dancing to the music provided by the school orchestra under the direction of Mr. Archie Clarke. The happy affair came to an end at midnight.

You Should Be the Same

A LARGE number of women's ailments are not surgical ones. Serious displacements or radical changes have not yet taken place.

A tiny part in a fine clock may become loose and cause the clock to gain or lose. If not attended to in time, the part may fall from its place and cause serious trouble. So it is with women's ailments, they start from simple causes; but if allowed to continue, produce serious conditions.

When the warning symptoms are first noted, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present troublesome ailment, and to prevent the development of serious trouble.

Kisock, Sask.—"My mother has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and upon learning of my troubles advised me to try it, as I seemed all run down after the flu and had a bad weakness. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and used the Sanitive Wash also Dr. Brown's Capsules and Prescription and am much better in every way. I am willing for you to use my letter as a testimonial as I recommend your medicines."—Mrs. IRENE NELSON, Kisock, Sask.

Hamilton, Ont.—"I have suffered for three years from a female trouble and consequent weakness, pain and irregularity which kept me in bed four or five days each month. I nearly went crazy with pains in my back, and for about a week at a time I could not do my work. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the Hamilton Spectator, and I took it. Now I have no pain and am quite regular. I keep house and do all my own work without any trouble."—Mrs. EMILY BEECROFT, 269 Victoria Ave., N., Hamilton, Ontario.

WILL VOICE PROTEST AGAINST SALARY GRAB

Public Demand for Elimination of Session and Salary Increases Will Be Made, Meeting Decides

Public protest against the salary grab perpetrated at the recent session of the Provincial Legislature will be voiced at a public meeting to be held at an early date.

This decision was reached at a meeting of representatives of various organizations of the city held last evening in the Victoria Club, Campbell Block, on the call of the Women's Independent Political League, a body which, since the close of the session of the House has been actively at work seeking to arouse interest in the holding of a public meeting at which condemnation of members of the Legislature for their action in voting themselves increased indemnities might be voiced.

There was some difference of opinion as to whether the proposed meeting should be called immediately or left until just before the opening of the Fall sitting of the House, as well as on the point of whether the meeting should be an open air one on the steps of the Legislative Buildings. It was finally decided that while the question of the salary grab, per se, might possibly fittingly be left until the Fall, there was the question of the Government's action in cutting wages of workingmen employed on the reserve area and other Government works which should be dealt with at once, and it was felt that public feeling on that question as well as the salary grab is now "at a white heat," as one speaker declared, and advantage of that feeling should be taken at once. A Fall meeting may also be held just before the House meets again to further impress upon members the heinousness of their action.

Approve Petition

In addition, it was decided that a petition be circulated for presentation to Mr. Speaker at the next session of the Legislature demanding repeal of sections 3 and 5 of the Constitution Act Amendment Act, 1920, the measure by which the House at its last session authorized not alone the increase of $400 in the sessional indemnity of members, but also gave the Ministers of the Crown an additional $1,500 to their salaries. It is proposed to enlist the sympathy of electors in other parts of the Province to the end that such a petition shall be Province-wide in its scope.

The date and place of the proposed public meeting was left to a committee composed of nine, which will meet on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the rooms of the Veterans of France to formulate plans.

Of the thirty odd organizations to which invitations were sent by Women's Independent Political League to have representatives at last night's meeting some nine responded, chiefly ex-service organizations. Mr. R. McNichol, of the Veterans of France, was elected chairman and Mrs. Grace Johnston, secretary.

Condemning the action of the Legislators, especially in view of the Government's step in materially cutting wages of the workingmen, Mr. McNichol stated he had read the explanation of Canon Hinchliffe and Mr. R. H. Pooley of their voting for the salary increase and the latter's statement that he knew nothing of the cut in the workingmen's wages. It was his opinion those members had simply attempted to cover up what had been "a legalized theft." Had the members desired any increase they should have brought the matter up at election time. He had met Canon Hinchliffe, who had told him he (the Canon) had voted for the increase because he desired to see the labor members secure it. With another session in the Fall members would receive $4,000 in one year, altogether too much, Mr. McNichol opined.

Raps Members

Mr. Dark, of the Army and Navy Association, asserted that organization was emphatically against the salary grab. But he doubted if the time were opportune for a public meeting. It would be better to leave it until the Fall, but in the meantime small meetings might be held to keep alive interest in the subject. He declared the statements by Mr. Kenneth Duncan, member for Cowichan, and Mr. Pooley to the effect that they had been made an April fool of for they had never known that the Government had cut workingmen's wages, was "pretty thin." The fact was that the reduction had been made early in March.

On behalf of the Conservative Association, which, he stated, had strongly condemned the salary grab, Mr. H. W. R. Moore held it to be unfair to lay all the blame upon Canon Hinchliffe. All the other members representing the city, including Premier Oliver, Hon. John Hart and Mr. Clearihue, were equally guilty. Canon Hinchliffe, he believed, is the only man across the Bay who does not put one cent of his indemnity into his own pocket, he holding that as he is employed by the S.C.R. he is not entitled to any money other than his salary from the federal government, except for actual out-of-pocket expenses as a member.

If there was such tremendous indignation at the action of the Legislature, why were not more people at Canon Hinchliffe's recent meeting, queried Capt. Clark, Veterans of France. At least, he said, Canon Hinchliffe had had the courage of his convictions and had called a public meeting at which he gave his so-called explanation.

Mrs. Johnston was divided in her mind as to whether an immediate meeting were desirable. Perhaps it would be better to wait until just before the Fall session, though the agitation could be kept up in the meantime. "Have we enough workers to put this petition proposal through?" she asked.

Waste Action

Decisive action should be taken relative to the salary grab, said R. R. McLarnan, G. A. U. V. Only by one or more mass meetings could public opinion be aroused to the necessary pitch of enthusiasm.

This question of when the meeting could be held occasioned considerable debate, but it was felt that the need of restoring the wages of workingmen employed by the Government must be dealt with at once.

"The Canon fell like all the rest of them," declared Mr. Thomas Dooley, who said that he had told the Canon, after the latter's election, that he could not get over his environment in the House. "And I was right," said Mr. Dooley.

The reduction in workingmen's wages came in for sharp criticism from Comrade Webb and others, and the suggestion was made that the public meeting should be held on the steps of the Legislative Building, but it was pointed out that in the existing conditions and temper of many people an open-air gathering might be productive of undesirable results.

How the United Farmers of North Saanich had written to Premier Oliver calling upon him and his Government to resign, was told by a Mr. Clark, who said that the Premier had replied that the request was insulting, and that anyway it was a matter for the Lieutenant-Governor. Mr. Clark suggested that a petition be sent to His Honor asking him to dissolve the Government or ask for the resignation of all members. The cut in wages ordered by the Government was having its effects in all lines of work, he claimed.

Finally, Mr. Moore's motion, relative to a petition, was adopted, and the desirability of an early public meeting also approved, though it was felt there was little likelihood that Premier Oliver would consent to preside, as one lady suggested.

The following committee was named to make arrangements for the gathering: Capt. Clarke, Veterans of France; Mrs. McNichol, Women's Auxiliary, Veterans of France; Mrs. Johnston, Women's Independent Political League; Mrs. Mowat, Women's Conservative Club; Mrs. Randall, Conservative Association; Major Rawlinson, Army and Navy Veterans' Association; Mr. Thomas Dooley, Grand Army of United Veterans; Mrs. Sutton, Women's Auxiliary of the G. A. U. V.; Mrs. Chambers, Women's Auxiliary of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association. This committee will also take action towards circulating the proposed petition which will be drafted by Mr. H. W. R. Moore.

METHODISTS GATHER FOR CONFERENCE

Preliminaries for Thirty-Fifth Annual Meeting of Church Have Started—First Conference Recalled

Preliminaries were opened last evening to the thirty-fifth annual conference of the Methodist Church of British Columbia, which takes place during this week and next at the Metropolitan Methodist Church here. At 5 o'clock last evening the stationing committee, comprising two ministers from each church district in the Province, met and inaugurated the work of preparing the annual slate of allocations to pulpits. This is the first body to meet in connection with the conference. They will continue and possibly complete their work tomorrow.

The main conference starts tomorrow, when the ministers and laymen meet coincidentally at 9 o'clock. The work of the ministers consists of the examination of ministerial character and the qualifications of the probationers preparing for the work of the ministry. These sessions are not open to the public.

The Layman's Association will devote Wednesday morning to business, and the afternoon to a programme of addresses at 3 o'clock, with an address by Mrs. W. T. Reid, of New Westminster, on "The Woman and the Church"; at 4 o'clock will follow an address by Dr. Ernest Hall on "The Man and the Church." At 6 o'clock a banquet will be given, at which Dr. Klinck, president of the University of British Columbia, will speak on "The Church in the National Life." At 8 o'clock a sermon by Rev. B. C. Freeman, president of the Conference, followed by the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. All these sessions are open to the public.

Main Session

The main public sessions of the conference begin on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, when it is expected 130 ministers and the same number of laymen will be present, included with the latter are twenty-one women.

On Thursday evening a reception of candidates for ordination will be conducted and reports received on Columbia and Ryerson Colleges.

It is interesting to note that the first conference was held here in the old Pandora Street Church, May, 1887, when Rev. Ebenezer Robson, pioneer missionary, was elected president and Rev. Joseph Hall, secretary.

It is expected that the conference will continue until Wednesday, May 27, when the station list no doubt will be presented.

Those composing the stationing committee, which met last evening, are: Rev. Dr. Sipprell and R. Wilkinson, Victoria; Revs. R. J. McIntyre and J. G. Brown, Vancouver; Revs. E. D. Bradon and W. F. Ewing, Okanagan; Revs. B. C. Freeman and E. Manuel, Vancouver; Revs. J. C. Switzer and J. F. Diminok, New Westminster; Rev. W. Vance and R. H. Balderston, Nanaimo; Rev. J. G. Spencer and W. H. Gibson, Port Simpson; Rev. J. D. Habden and C. B. Batsald, Kamloops; Rev. J. P. Westman, Nelson; Dr. H. C. Wrinch, Hamilton.

CITY ASKED TO WAR ON DRUG TRAFFIC

Mayor Gale Asks Council to Endorse New Amendments Aiming at Effective Control of Trade in Narcotics

The City Council was asked last night to join Vancouver in warring against the drug traffic in British Columbia. Mayor R. H. Gale, of Vancouver, wrote to the Council, submitting a copy of the amendments proposed relative to Federal legislation and requesting that, if approved, this city should lend its support to representations now being made at Ottawa for effective action in stamping out the menace.

"The fact that eradication of this menace has been undertaken by the citizens of Vancouver should clearly show the dangerous length to which the drug traffickers have gone at the Coast," wrote Mayor Gale. "It is presumed that the interior cities are suffering to a lesser and in some cases a greater degree by reason of their activities."

Last month, in the House of Commons, Mr. H. H. Stevens, M.P. for Vancouver Centre, urged that new legislation be brought down with a view to bringing the traffic under rigid control.

On motion of Ald. Sargent, seconded by Ald. Todd, the proposed amendments were ordered referred to Medical Health Officer A. G. Price and the Health Committee of the Council for report.

MONTREAL ELEVATORS FILLED WITH GRAIN

MONTREAL, May 16.—Grain elevator facilities here are already taxed to the limit.

In the first two weeks of the shipping season the Canada Steamship Lines have brought down three million bushels of grain from Fort Colborne, and other lake carriers have brought down another 1,500,000 bushels.

At present fifteen boats are waiting a chance to discharge grain. Several ocean boats are now loading grain, but arrivals here so far have been much greater than overseas shipments.

One bright spot on the commercial horizon is being made by the St. Lawrence grain shipments, a prominent shipping official remarked today.

Poland Makes Effort

WARSAW, May 16.—Extraordinary measures have been taken by Poland to clear up Silesian affairs, which have taken a turn for the worse, owing to Premier Lloyd George's speech accusing Poland of backing the movement which brought about the uprising.

All efforts to communicate with M. Korfanty, leader of the Polish insurgents, having failed, Premier Witos, accompanied by Minister of the Interior Skulski, proceeded to Sosnowice, just east of the Silesian frontier, from which place they are trying to communicate with Korfanty to induce him to end the insurrection and permit affairs to take their natural course toward a peaceful settlement.

Premier Lloyd George's speech is bitterly criticized by the Warsaw press.

NANCY LEE WINS THE KENTUCKY OAKS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 16.—P. A. Clarke's filly, Nancy Lee, won the feature of the Kentucky Oaks for three-year-old fillies at a mile and an eighth, at Churchill Downs Saturday in 1:50 2-5 and incidentally clipped 4-5 of a second from the track record of 1:51 1-5, established May 27, 1916.

The Oaks is the oldest stake for three-year-old fillies to be run continuously in North America. It had an added money value of $10,060 and attracted fifty-eight eligibles, of which six started, including Harry Payne Whitney's speedy Prudery, the beaten public favorite in the $50,000 Kentucky Derby last Saturday.

ENGLISH BILLIARDS

Ruling Obtained From Central Controlling Body as to Spot Stroke Variation

A point of some importance to billiardists has been cleared up by "The Captain," Victoria's leading amateur. The question was how many times can the red ball be pocketed off the pyramid spot when the billiard spot is occupied by the opponent's ball.

In a letter from the Billiard Association and Central Council of London, England, the following information has been received in reply to inquiry: Rule 12 of the revised rules of billiards enacts that "if the red ball is pocketed twice in succession in one break from the spot or from the pyramid spot, without the conjunction of another score, it shall be placed on the centre spot."

Willets Will Pitch For Caps in Opener

Former Detroit Hurler Will Work Against Tacoma This Afternoon—Lee Dempsey Will Be at First and Eddie Shannon, Formerly of Seattle, at Shortstop

Victoria's ball team will be trotted out for the approval of the fans this afternoon. The stage was all set for this show yesterday, but the heavy rains interfered and a postponement was ordered.

Manager Blankenship and his tribe were greatly put out by the actions of the Rain King, but their disappointment was nothing compared to the way the fans felt. Everyone was ready to see the opener yesterday, and it was expected that the biggest crowd in the history of local baseball would have assembled in the ball park. However, every fan who figured on being in the crowd yesterday will more than likely find time to slip into the Stadium this afternoon. The hour of the game stands at 5:15 o'clock.

The Capitals returned to the city yesterday afternoon, after spending the two opening weeks of the season on the road. In Vancouver the team did not rack up any too well, but over in Tacoma last week the players began to show form, and secured an even break with the Tigers.

"We've got the pitching staff to keep us right up on top, and the only thing we have to do is to improve our fielding," announced Blankenship yesterday morning.

Pitchers All Right

The Capitals' manager pointed out that the games were not lost through poor pitching. It was due to the poor work of the infielders.

Blankenship is continuing the process of remoulding his team. He is not yet satisfied with it.

Handley, while a nice fielder, is no shortstop, and Blankenship is going to put him back in his regular place at third base. Messner has been playing third, but his arm is bad, and he will be benched for the time being.

Eddie Shannon, last year with Seattle, has been signed to play short stop for the Caps. Shannon, while not a destructive hitter, is one of the best fielding shortstops in this section of the country. Blankenship figures that with Shannon at short his infield will greatly improve its fielding average.

Blankenship is still anxious to land a right-hand hitter for his outfield. All his present fielders face the ball from the portside and this makes the outfield almost helpless against a left-hand pitcher. Blankenship will probably pick up a good hitter within the next few days.

The Caps' manager also wants a southpaw pitcher in a hurry. "Lefty" Lawson has not had his suspension lifted by the National Commission and cannot work until he has. Blankenship hopes to have a left-handed flinger before his team takes on the Yakima team next week.

While there are departments that need a little bolstering, Manager Blankenship is very optimistic.

"I wouldn't swop the club for any other outfit in the league right now," he said yesterday. "We have the pitchers, and as soon as some of the players get into their stride we'll be away, no question of it."

All the Trimmings

The ball game today will be attended by all the trimmings that were arranged for the opener yesterday. The parade will start from the St. James Hotel at 3:45 o'clock and the first ball will be pitched by Hon. William Sloan at 5:15 o'clock, and Hon. Jack Hart will try and block the throw.

The fans will then look upon the Capitals for the first time this season. Lee Dempsey will play first base. His reappearance has greatly bolstered the team. Jimmy Church will also make his first bow to the fans this year. He joined the team in Vancouver. He is playing second and Shannon will be at short and Handley at third. Gatewood will play left field, while "Toots" Bankhead will tend to centre field and Shoots to right.

Big Ed Willets, the former big leaguer, will do the twirling for the Capitals. He is in top form, and has won both games in which he has started this season.

"Tony Rego will perform behind the plate. Blankenship thinks Tony is the gamest little player in the league. He is always in the game and is hitting like a whirlwind.

Anfinson, the catcher from the San Francisco team, will arrive here on Wednesday. His arrival will give the Capitals two first-class backstops, and will relieve Blankenship from any worry in that department.

Officials of the ball club draw attention to the fact that the three prices for admission will be effective tomorrow. There will be the booster's ticket at one dollar, and the regular 70 cents charge for the grandstand, and 40 cents for the bleachers.

The University Military School's cricket eleven scored a notable victory Saturday afternoon on their home ground, when they defeated the Victoria Cricket Club, after a close game, by 96 to 86. Five C's Easy Win

Although it had been anticipated that the Five C's would make two points at the Jubilee grounds on Saturday, when they met the Albions, it was hardly expected that their win would be so decisive.

Wilkinson's fine bowling was chiefly responsible for the result. In the first innings he took seven wickets for seven runs, and although only bowling nine balls in the second innings, took another two wickets for two runs, making an exceptional record of nine wickets for one run apiece.

Eden Quainton, with a very freely hit innings of 66, headed the batting list.

The Albions made a good showing in their second innings, Walton, Freeman and Jordan scoring freely.

CARPENTIER ARRIVES TO START TRAINING

Only Pressmen Will Be Privileged to See His Workouts —Joe Jeannette Bosses Sparring Partners

NEW YORK, May 16.—Confident of victory, Georges Carpentier, challenger of Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, arrived here today to begin training.

The Frenchman, who disembarked at noon from the French steamer La Savoie, did not go directly to his training camp at Manhasset, L.I., as he had planned, but spent the night here.

Carpentier had lunch with George L. (Tex) Rickard, promoter of the bout, immediately after landing.

The Frenchman's confidence of winning was indicated when he inquired of Rickard if a suitable American challenger would be available within six months after the Jersey City battle, if he won.

Rickard assured Carpentier that several American heavyweights were being developed, who would be suitable opponents. Carpentier said that, if he won, he would be glad to return to America to defend the title.

The Frenchman, with his usual fighting weight 175 pounds, said he is in excellent condition. He has been training throughout the Winter. For the first week at Manhasset the work will be comparatively light. After that a more rigorous programme will be adopted, with Joe Jeanette, negro heavyweight, directing the sparring partners.

Carpentier was greeted enthusiastically wherever he went. Several thousand persons waited for hours near the entrance of the pier to greet him. Carpentier, smiling, had difficulty making his way to the waiting automobile. Through it all he retained his grip on the leash which held in check the big black Belgian police dog, his constant companion. Included in the crowd were many fellow countrymen who shouted enthusiastic encouragement in the national tongue.

Although the public will not be permitted to witness Carpentier in training, the work will not be secret. Manager Descampe announced that newspapermen would be admitted.

Dempsey Also Busy

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., May 16.—Arrangements have been completed for Jack Dempsey to start active training here within a few days. On Saturday he will give his first public exhibition. Leo Houck, a Lancaster, Pa., middleweight, arrived today, the first of Dempsey's sparring partners to come.

Dempsey was in his gymnasium this afternoon and jumped the rope for a short while. He says he is feeling fine.

Many hundreds of visitors were turned away from the camp daily, as Dempsey up to this time had done all his work behind closed gates.

Soccer Arbiters of Vancouver Island Win Match From Their Mainland Brethren, Four to Three

A delegation of Victoria soccer referees left Victoria on Friday night for Vancouver, where they were met by the Upper Island referees and a Vancouvr representative. A most enjoyable programme was arranged by Vancouver.

At 3 p.m. on Saturday a soccer match was played between Vancouver and Vancouver Island referees, the result of which was that Vancouver Island won by four to three. About two thousand spectators watched the game on the Cambie Street grounds, and enthusiasm ran high throughout the game.

A return game is to be played in Nanaimo in the near future. A banquet after Saturday's game was followed by a meeting, at which the referees organized a British Columbia Referees' Association. Officers elected were: Mr. J. Haslett, president; Mr. F. Webb, secretary, and a council of six members, two each from Vancouver, Nanaimo and Victoria.

LOCAL RUNNERS ENTER FOR VANCOUVER RACE

Victoria will be well represented in the long distance race to be held in Vancouver tomorrow, as both Jimmie Hackett and Ernie Cull, of the Crusaders, have entered for the eight-mile grind round Stanley Park for the Gorden Cup and the Provincial championship. Hackett was the winner of the G.W.V.A. road race here on Good Friday, and Cull came in fourth in that event. Between them they should make sure of bringing this championship to Victoria.

SOCCER DANCE TONIGHT

At the Knights of Pythias Hall this evening the Victoria and District Football Association will wind up their season with what promises to be an interesting and enjoyable evening. Proceedings will open by a short address from the chairman, Mr. J. G. Brown, after which presentation will be made of the various trophies won during the past season, as enumerated in Sunday's Colonist.

Following the presentation, dancing will be enjoyed.

WHITNEY'S BROOMSPUN WINS THE PREAKNESS

BALTIMORE, May 16.—Probably 25,000 persons at Pimlico race track today saw Harry Payne Whitney's colt Broomspun win the fourteenth running of the Preakness, the Pimlico classic. Polly Ann, owned by Spalding Lowe Jenkins, of Baltimore, was second; J. E. Griffith's Jeg was third, and the Xalapa Farm's Leonardo II., was fourth. The race was worth $43,000 to the winner, besides possession of the Woodlawn Vase, $5,000 to the second horse, $3,000 to the third and $2,000 to the fourth. It was the year's richest American stake, the value to the winner being more than $4,000 in excess of the amount paid to the winner of the Kentucky Derby. The time of the race for the mile and one furlong was 1:54 1-5.

SCOTTISH TEAM DUE TO ARRIVE TODAY

HALIFAX, N.S., May 16.—The steamship Cameronia, with the Scottish soccer team, is expected to arrive here tomorrow. The visitors will play their first game here Wednesday evening. Extensive arrangements have been made for entertaining the sportsmen.

SCHAEFER MAKES BILLIARD RECORD, BEATING HOREMANS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—Jake Schaefer, of San Francisco, established what was said to be a world's 18.2 balk billiard record here today when he scored 400 points in three innings against Edouard Horemans, the Belgian champion, who scored 111 points in two innings.

Schaefer had an incompleted run of 63 remaining from Saturday's contest. His first inning today resulted in 326 points—a total run of 394. He scored 70 points in his second inning, and ran out the four points to complete the 400 block in his third inning.

The total score in the 4,000 point match now stands: Schaefer, 2,400; Horemans, 2,121.

GEORGE SISLER IS ON WAY TO THE TOP

Is Slugging Up to Head of American Batters — Roger Hornsby Is Leading the Nationals

CHICAGO, May 16.—Make way for George Sisler. That is the warning given the leading batters of the American League by the averages for the last week, including games of Wednesday, for the young first baseman of the St. Louis Browns stepped into a slugging streak which will soon carry him to the top of the list if it is continued.

Harry Heilman, of Detroit, led the league up to Wednesday with the sensational figure of .521, but Sisler sent out thirteen hits in six games during the past week and climbed from thirty-fifth place to seventeenth position. The champion batter of 1920 increased his average from .336 to .352, his hits including three doubles, two triples and a home run. In addition he scored ten runs and stole two bases.

Heilman hit in an unprecedented fashion to hold his league leadership, also smashing out thirteen hits in six games, three being doubles and two home runs.

Burns, of Cleveland, is the runner-up to Heilman with an average of .452, displacing Evans, of Cleveland, who was second last week. Evans is batting .417.

Veterans Hit Hard

The veteran Tris Speaker, manager of the world's champions, and Ty Cobb, pilot of the Tigers, give promise of being near the top before long. Speaker, with .409, is in fifth place. Babe Ruth follows Speaker with .408, and Cobb is next with .398. Wood, of Cleveland, is fourth with .412. Babe Ruth, by crashing out two circuit drives, brought his string of home runs up to nine. Harris, of Washington, continues to set the pace among the base stealers with six.

Other leading batters—Stephenson, Cleveland, .380; Menoskey, Boston, .375; Witt, Philadelphia, .373; O'Neill, Cleveland, .365; Gharrity, Washington, .365.

Roger Hornsby, the St. Louis star, who last season topped the National League batters, has made his way to the top of the heap again this year. He boosted his mark from .338 last week to .471.

George Kelly, the New York Giants' first baseman, who promises to give Babe Ruth a race for home-run honors, failed to add to his total of seven. Bohne, of Cincinnati, broke the triple tie for stolen bases, which he shared with Heathcote, of St. Louis, and Maranville, of Pittsburgh, by stealing three bases. He is out in front with seven and Heathcote has six.

Hargrave, of Cincinnati is trailing Hornsby for batting honors with .405.

Other leading batters—Johnson, Brooklyn, .393; Snyder, New York, .385; Kelly, New York, .371; Tierney, Pittsburgh, .369; Nicholson, Boston, .365; E. Smith, New York, .360; Cutshaw, Pittsburgh, .357; Maranville, Pittsburgh, .355.

AMERICANS LOSE GAME TO HURLINGHAM TEAM

Earl Rocksavage Breaks Collarbone in Collision With Devereaux Milburn—Latter Is Unhurt

LONDON, May 16.—The American polo team which next month will play the British defenders of the international Polo Cup, today met the Hurlingham combination in the first "full dress" practice match, and was defeated 3 to 2. There were some instances of speedy play, but the Americans did not show the class they have exhibited in practice. A bad spill occurred in the second chukker, when Devereaux Milburn, of the American four, and Earl Rocksavage, collided in a mad face for the ball.

Milburn rose smiling and unhurt, but Lord Rocksavage, whose pony rolled over him, only recovered sufficiently to finish the chukker. He then was compelled to retire from the game, and was taken to a hospital. The doctors announced he had suffered a broken collar bone.

COWICHAN CLUB VOTES FOR SUNDAY TENNIS

DUNCAN, May 16. — Glorious weather greeted the opening day of the tennis courts of the South Cowichan and the Duncan Lawn Tennis Clubs on Saturday afternoon. At both clubs there was a big turnout for the opening day.

At the South Cowichan Club courts much interest was evinced on the question as to whether the courts would be open for play on Sundays. Previously the courts have been kept strictly closed on Sunday. On Saturday afternoon a meeting was held at the courts, and the question was settled by vote, 44 favored the courts being open for play on Sundays, and 18 against.

LEAGUE BASEBALL

VANCOUVER, B.C., May 16.—Big Max Rachac had the best of his duel with Slim Tipton, of the Yakima Braves, today, and the Beavers won by 5 to 2.

Both pitchers were in difficulties on several occasions, but the local moundsman was more effective in the showdowns, and held the visitors to five hits, while his teammates walloped the shoots from the dexterous paw of Tipton for 10 safeties.

Thirteen free trips to first were issued during the racket, six by Rachac and seven by Tipton. They were intentional in many instances, the flingers being under the gun and taking no chances.

KENNEL NOTES

By The Skipper

Several readers of the Kennel Notes have asked me to write something about Irish Water Spaniels.

The Irish Water Spaniel

To a sportsman of limited means, or one who has not accommodation to keep a team, the Irish Water Spaniel is the most useful dog he can have, inasmuch as he can be made to perform the duties of Pointer, Setter, Retriever and Spaniel; but, as his name implies, he is peculiarly fitted by temperament and by a water-resisting coat for the arduous duties required by a sportsman whose proclivities lie in the direction of wildfowl shooting. In this branch of sporting these dogs have no equal, being able to stand any amount of hardship; this, combined with an indomitable spirit, leads them into deeds of daring from which many dogs would shrink. Many are the feats recorded of their pluck, sagacity and intelligence.

To a well-bred and trained specimen no sea is too rough, no pier too high and no water too cold—even if they have to break the ice at every step they are not daunted, and day after day they will follow up such work, being of the "cut-and-come-again" sort. As companions for a lady or a gentleman they have no equal, whilst a well-behaved dog of the breed is worth a whole kennel of toys to the children; he will allow the little ones to pull him about by the ears, will roll over and over with them, fetch their balls as often as thrown for him, and act as their guard in times of danger.

Doubtful Origin

As to the origin of the Irish Water Spaniel, there is very little authentic information. The most likely and feasible theory of his origin is a cross between the Poodle and the Irish Setter. There is much in common in type and character between the Poodle and the Irish Water Spaniel, viz., in coat, conformation, head and general character, while in disposition the dog inherits all the dash and determination of the Irish Setter, and partakes of his color, which, we can quite understand, would be deepened by crossing in again to the Poodle. The Irish Water Spaniel partakes, too, of the great intelligence of the Poodle, who, although regarded as a trick and fancy dog, will hunt and retrieve on land or water with most Spaniels.

Whatever his origin, his type now is thoroughly fixed and recognised by all experts and judges, among whom there is an almost unanimous consensus of opinion upon his "points."

In the scale of points and description of the Irish Water Spaniel Club, the height of the dog is given, but not his weight. The latter should be from 50 pounds to 60 pounds, dogs, of course, being a little heavier than bitches.

Lest we forget our friend, the dog, on May 21,

The Curate thinks you have no soul;
I know that he has none, but you,
Dear friend, whose solemn self-control
In our four-square familiar pew,

Was pattern to my youth, whose bark
Called me in Summer dawns to rove,
Have you gone down into the dark,
Where none is welcome—none may love?

I will not think those good brown eyes
Have spent their light of truth so soon,
But in some Canine Paradise,
Your wraith, I know, rebukes the moon.

And quarters every plain and hill,
Seeking his Master. As for me,
This prayer at least the gods fulfill,
That when I pass the flood and see

Old Charon by the Stygian Coast,
Take toll of all the shades who land,
Your little faithful barking ghost,
May leap to lick my phantom hand.

—John Lucas.

RUSSIA DOCKED HERE ON TIME

Empress Made Port Yesterday Nine Days Out From Yokohama—Carried Big List of Passengers

The Empress of Russia, Captain S. Robinson, R.N.R., reached port yesterday morning just before noon, little more than nine days out from Yokohama. Heavy seas were encountered with some regularity throughout the voyage, but the big liner, speeding along at eighteen knots, was held back very little and docked according to schedule.

The passenger list was very large, numbering more than eleven hundred, most of them Chinese steerage. Saloon and cabin accommodation held 360 travelers.

Passengers included a party of Chinese students of rail transport, coming to Canada to spend some years in the service of the Canadian Pacific, gaining an insight into modern methods of railroad management. Arrangements for their visit to Canada were made by Chairman Bosworth, of the C. P. O. S., while in the Orient in the early part of the year, the Canadian line being the one preferred by the Chinese to all the American roads.

Paul Rader, the athletic revivalist, once a professional boxer and later pastor of the Moody Church, Chicago, was a passenger aboard the Russia. Mr. Rader was on his way to Chicago after a tour of the Orient in the interests of the Christian Alliance. Ill-health forced him to abandon a number of his projected meetings in the Far East, and to return to America. Successful gatherings were held, however, in Shanghai and Canton and at some of the Japanese towns.

Sir Reginald and Lady Gamble were bound for London from Peking, where Sir Reginald has been associate inspector in the revenue department. The visit to the Old Country is in the nature of a holiday. Other passengers were Mr. E. Johnson, agent for the Admiral Steamship Line at Kobe, the centre of the Japanese shipping, accompanied by Mrs. Johnson, and Dr. J. Francis White, of Shanghai.

The Russia brought in a big cargo, the seven hundred tons of silk being valued at four millions.

Mails included some bags for the United States aerial service, and were picked up by Eddie Hubbard, the aerial mail pilot, shortly after the arrival of the vessel.

The Russia sailed for Vancouver at 1:45 p.m.

Damage to Destroyer Keeps Squadron Here

H. M. C. S. PATRIOT

DESTROYER HAD HULL DAMAGED

Injury Sustained by Patriot Will Occupy Victoria Machinery Depot Two Weeks—Squadron Sailing Delayed

The grounding of H.M.C.S. Patriot in Nanaimo Harbor last week resulted in damage to her hull that it will take about two weeks to repair. The Victoria Machinery Depot has been awarded the contract for the work, and the destroyer will pass into Victoria Harbor from Esquimalt this morning, bound for the repair plant in the upper basin. She is expected about ten or eleven o'clock.

As the Patriot will not be ready for sea by May 27, the date set for the departure of the Naval Squadron for the Atlantic, the sailing day has been postponed, and the naval men will have a week or two of added sojourn in British Columbia. It is probable that the vessels will get away early in June, probably about the 8th.

The Patriot and Patrician spent two days at Nanaimo last week. The Patriot, on arriving from Comox on the afternoon of last Tuesday, had the ill luck to take the wrong channel, rounding one of the buoys in the harbor instead of passing inside, and ran aground. She floated off without difficulty with the rising tide, but some of her bottom plating was damaged. While the injury was not serious enough to interfere with her movements about the Coast, it necessitated thorough attention before the ship should be called upon to withstand the strain of the long trip back to Halifax.

AQUITANIA SAILS WITH TITLED CREW

Left on Time With Cunard Directors Filling Places of Striking Stewards — Will Take No Tips on Voyage

SOUTHAMPTON, England, May 16.—The Cunard Line steamer Aquitania sailed on her scheduled time Saturday for New York. Predictions had been made by leaders of the striking stewards that the liner would have difficulty in getting away.

LIVERPOOL, May 16.—Bereft of her stewards owing to the strike of ship's cooks and stewards, the Cunarder SS. Aquitania had her deck complement, after all, with directors and clerks as stewards. They were drawn from all departments of the Cunard head offices and include Sir Percy Bates, director of the company, who had expressed his intention to work as a steward.

Many Volunteers

With about 3,000 passengers, booked to sail for New York on Saturday from Southampton, a movement was started in the Liverpool offices to secure a "scratch" crew of stewards for the Aquitania. The movement gathered way quickly and over three hundred volunteers were accepted. Each man was fitted with the usual uniform. They will perform all the usual duties of stewards, and the directors and departmental heads will be among those seen in blue uniform attending on passengers. Two consignments of these volunteers left Liverpool yesterday for Southampton. They found difficulties in their way, for sailors and firemen in Southampton had expressed strong sympathy with the stewards, and if they had declined to sail with the newcomers, the Aquitania's 3,000 passengers would have been held up.

Will Take No Tips

There was a good deal of banter both amongst themselves and with other passengers on the platform. One of the last to arrive and one of the first to volunteer was Sir Percy Bates. He came with Sir Thomas Royden, deputy chairman of the company, and Mr. A. D. Mearns, general manager. Mr. Lister, joint general manager of the Cunard, who is among the volunteers, laughed when asked what his attitude would be towards tipping, and said if any passengers offend him any such acknowledgement it would certainly be the first tip he had ever received.

It is stated that nearly 80 per cent of the staff volunteered to take the place of the 500 stewards, cooks and bakers. The fat tips usually paid to the stewards will be abolished by mutual consent among the temporary hands who have already stated their determination to refuse any financial gain.

Thirty-seven per cent of car owners improve their living conditions because of the automobile.

FIND NO TRACES OF MISSING BARGE

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., May 16.—There is practically no hope entertained for the missing barge Mizteo or her crew. Coastguard men are patrolling the beach and islands for traces for any bodies which may be washed ashore. The Pittsburgh Steamship Company's steamer Meunaloa, which went aground on Cedar Reef, Saturday was released by a tug, after taking out her cargo. The barge Pestigo has been picked up and brought here.

Down-bound steamers report a heavy northern gale blowing across Lake Superior, with snow.

C.P.R. TO INITIATE MONTREAL-GENOA LINE

The first direct passenger line will shortly be instituted between Canada and Italy by the C.P.R. in conjunction with the Navigazione Generale Italiana, of Genoa. Present plans call for the placing of a steamer in the service by each line, the Italian ship being the Caserta.

The C.P.R.'s liner for the new service is the SS. Montreal, purchased last year from the Reparations Commission and formerly known as the German liner Kaiser Wilhelm August. She is a ship of 10,000 tons and has been refitted expressly for the Italian passenger service.

Owing to the loss of the Grampian, which burned in drydock at Antwerp, the C.P.R. Ocean Services have been badly disarranged and it is now announced that the new liner for the Italian service will first have to make a voyage from Montreal in place of the Scotian, which will take over the Grampian dates. The Montreal's maiden voyage for the company will therefore be on June 18. After that trip she will be diverted to the Italian run.

Two liners of modern type indicate a monthly service, but it is expected that with the extensive system of C.P.R. agencies in Europe, the demand for Genoa bookings will be great enough to warrant the placing of two other liners in the Montreal to Italy service.

C.P.R. officials point out that Genoa is the favorite southern seaport not only for Italians but for many Southern Europe emigrants who are compelled to travel by rail to Antwerp and Havre and Cherbourg.

GRAIN UNLOADERS

Pneumatic plants for discharging grain from ships have come largely into use during recent years on account of the saving in manual labor for handling and trimming, and also because of the comparative absence of dust. During the war a number of self-contained floating grain plants were supplied by a British firm to the French Government to handle the increased imports of grain necessary owing to the reduction of agriculture in France. The same firm recently constructed a similar floating plant with the large capacity of 180 tons per hour. It is a combination of pneumatic and band conveyors for simultaneously discharging from a grain ship through spouts to lighters and by means of the band conveyor across the deck of the ship to bands below the quay. The plant is erected on a pontoon, which is brought alongside the ship to be emptied. Although designed for 180 tons per hour, this equipment proved able, on a recent test, to discharge at the rate of 200 tons per hour, the highest capacity being 216 tons per hour for two consecutive hours.

TORPID LIVER

FOR OVER FOUR MONTHS

The duty of the liver is to prepare and secrete bile and serve as a filter to the blood, cleansing it of all impurities and poisons.

When the liver becomes lazy, slow or torpid it is not working properly, and does not supply sufficient bile to thoroughly act on the bowels and carry off the waste products of the system, hence the bowels become clogged up, the bile gets into the blood, constipation sets in and liver troubles follow.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills quickly remove the secretions, clear away the waste and effete matter by acting directly on the liver, and making the bile pass through the bowels instead of allowing it to get into the blood, and cause so many troubles.

Mrs. Alice Mehill, Napanee, Ont., writes:—"I was very badly run down, and had a torpid liver for four months. I tried several remedies, but got no relief. One day my husband brought me home a vial of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and before I had used half of it I was much better. I only used two vials, and I am a different person today. I can safely recommend Laxa-Liver Pills to any one troubled with liver trouble."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian West. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish High Water from Low Water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The Height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of lower Low Water.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the Drydock at any tide, add 19.0 feet to the height of High Water as above given.

SHIPBUILDING EXPERIENCE

In a recent speech the British Shipping Controller spoke with reasoned confidence of the ability of the British shipbuilding industry to hold its own against all comers. Years and years of preparation and experience were necessary for a nation to build up a great shipbuilding industry, and Britain alone had passed through that essential period. He saw great advantages, too, from the difficulties which surround all industrial enterprises at the present time. Improvements did not come when business was good and everything was booming; genius and ability came to the front in time of depression. Speaking of the future of the oil engine for marine purposes, a field in which British marine engineers are making rapid strides, he referred to a British ship of 12,000 tons which had been out to the Far East and back at a speed of twelve knots and a consumption of oil of only about twenty tons per day. A steamship would have required about eighty tons of coal per day.

JAPANESE JOIN WITH LLOYD'S

Chief Surveyor for Lloyd's in America Returned on Russia—Linked Nippon Shipping With London Headquarters

Mr. James French, chief surveyor in the United States and Canada for Lloyd's Registry of Shipping, was a passenger aboard the Empress of Russia yesterday from Yokohama, returning from Japan, where he has just brought about the organization of a Japanese committee of Lloyd's Register.

Hitherto the surveying arrangements for Japan have been carried on by the general committee of the society in London, and experienced shipbuilders and engineers have been sent out in an attempt to give an adequate classification service to the Japanese shipping community. Recognizing, however, that the classification of vessels of late years has become an international rather than a national problem, Lloyd's has been finding a solution in the world-wide formation of local or national committees of one universal society. The great distance from London and naturally been of some disadvantage to Japan in the past, and readily led to the extension of the scheme to that country.

Permanent Committee

Japanese shipping men were prompt to take advantage of the scheme following Mr. French's arrival in the Orient, and last month, at a Tokio gathering sponsored by the Japanese government and attended by representatives of the big shipping companies, including the N.Y.K. and O.S.K., and the shipyards of the country, the idea was given shape in Japan, and a permanent organization effected. The new body is known as the Japanese Committee of Lloyd's Registry of Shipping, has the experience and knowledge of Lloyd's behind it, and supervises the society's surveying arrangements in Japan.

It places at the disposal of Japan all the facilities of Lloyd's as a whole, yet provides a means whereby the society's operations and the application of its rules may be considered by the interests directly affected, giving full representation and thought to purely domestic problems.

This new plan of Lloyd's has been followed out in other countries than Japan, and, in effect, thought Mr. French, it was becoming a mutual international organization formed of the leading and most representative men of the shipping industry throughout the world.

"War Millionaires" Arrested

PARIS, May 16.—"Two war millionaires," Roger Gault and Jules Bursau, were arrested yesterday on charges of swindling banks. The police allege that they borrowed nearly 20,000,000 francs and bought factories during the war, maintained a chateau, had six automobiles, and astonished the habitues of night resorts by tips sometimes of a thousand francs.

What's at the Playhouses?

KELLERD'S SHYLOCK NO "FAWNING JEW"

Company Which Played "Merchant of Venice" at Pantages Last Night Gave Highly Interesting Performance

The proud dignity of Mr. John Kellerd's Shylock, as represented last night at Pantages Theatre in "The Merchant of Venice," gives the role a new interest to those students of the Shakespearean drama who have seen other interpretations of the part which make "The Jew" anything from the fawning lawyer to the malevolent money lender and hater of the Gentile. "Hamlet" by the same actor, to be played tonight at the same theatre, should be hardly less interesting, and no matter what version Mr. Kellerd may give of "The Melancholy Dane," his clear diction and polished acting should make the study worth seeing.

Mr. Kellerd has made of Shylock less of a caricature of a man (and that mean a Jew) than most actors do. Shylock walks and talks like any other man. He comes to the stage without any startling attitudes or frantic gestures; he has a noble and a proud bearing. And so consistently does he sustain this until the final moment of his defeat in the trial scene of act four that he even wins a certain sympathy when he falls, broken and pitiful, and alone before his enemies. This is a climax for which the close student has been waiting. And Mr. Kellerd introduces a final masterstroke to prove his intention. Dazed and bewildered by a decision so adverse and fatal as the judge pronounces, Shylock staggers slowly to his feet and humbly crawls away. Suddenly he sees his hated enemies, Gratiano and Bassanio; he struggles heroically to conceal his feelings, drawing himself to his full height, and, although suddenly aged and ill, with burning hate in his eyes, proudly returns mocking stare for mocking stare as he totters feebly from the room.

It is a well worth while performance. Mr. Kellerd speaks all his lines well, and in the scene already mentioned he was particularly fine, that part commencing "I have possessed your grace of what I purpose," commencing with a deadly calm which well presages the suppressed frenzy of the later episodes.

The cast which he has for support is very evenly balanced. Antonio is a pleasantly morose fellow as played by Charles Stevens; and a good foil is the more cheerful-spoken Bassanio of Mr. Stuart Black. Gratiano as played by Mr. Frank Hollins is infectiously high spirited; Miss Isabel Merson is a straightforward Portia of rather a modern type, and the Nerissa and Jessica of Miss Eva McRoberts and Miss Freda Brindley respectively are quite pleasing. Of the minor parts, that of Roy Langford and George Tawde as Old Gobbo and Launcelot, must certainly be mentioned, being pieces of excellent comedy characterisation.

The staging is exceptionally good for a touring company, and students may learn much by seeing tonight's performance of Hamlet.

ROYAL VICTORIA Constance Talmadge, as full of fun and and pep as ever, is the very popular attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre this week. Her vehicle is "Lessons in Love," a corking good comedy drama, adapted from Douglas Murray's stage play, "The Man From Toronto." "Lessons in Love" opened its engagement yesterday at the Royal Victoria Theatre to capacity crowds. The story deals with the attempts of two old men to choose a husband for their ward, a young woman with a very strong mind of her own. When one of them fails in his attempt to bring his nephew East to meet the girl, he plays "dead," leaving a will providing that his nephew weds the girl. The report of his uncle's death brings the young chap East as a last courtesy, but he is determined that he will wed only the woman of his own choice. The situation is distasteful to the girl. She does not relish the idea of a prospective bridegroom looking her over, so she conceals her identity by masquerading as a maid.

DOMINION THEATRE Automobiles have taken the place of the horse in many respects and in many fields of activity, but not in the emotional affections of human kind. This was shown conclusively last night at the Dominion Theatre when "Black Beauty" appeared on the motion picture screen. Here and there in the big audience were heard little exclamations of delight as the first scenes of the story of the most famous horse in the world's literature were presented, following a tense and expectant silence as the opening title, "The first place that I can well remember was a large, pleasant meadow," appeared on the screen. As scene followed scene, showing the colt which was to be known as Black Beauty and his mother, Duchess, many expressions of surprise and pleasure were heard in the theatre. The pictured story of Black Beauty and his equine friends, faithfully presented in scenes from the thrilling human drama, fulfilled the promise given in the foreword.

COLUMBIA THEATRE No screen production that has yet been produced possesses such delightful qualities as does "Romance," the alluring and fascinating love story from the pen of Edward Rhoden, America's foremost dramatist, in which Miss Doris Keane, who played the leading role on the stage for six continuous years in New York, Chicago, Boston and London, will play the chief parts, when it is shown at the Columbia Theatre during its engagement in this city for three days only. This fascinating drama of New York reveals Mr. Sheldon as a playwright of rare sentiment and poetic gift as well as a brilliant technician, and is a most gratifying fulfillment of the promise of all his former wonderful works.

ROMANO THEATRE Elliott Dexter, for several years famous leading man in Cecil B. DeMille productions, was specially engaged by William D. Taylor to play the leading role of "Jack Brookfield" in "The Witching Hour," a new Paramount picture which is at the Romano Theatre again today. "Jack Brookfield" in "The Witching Hour" is a part made to order for the cultured restrained art of Mr. Dexter. It is believed that this interpretation will stand as the greatest of all his screen and stage work. As the man of strong will he has unusual opportunity. To support Mr. Dexter an exceptional cast has been chosen. Included are Mary Alden, Winter Hall, Ruth Renick, Robert Cain, Edward Sutherland, Fred Turner, Genevieve Blinn, Charles West, L. M. Wells, Clarence Geldart and Jim Blackwell. Julia Crawford Ivers wrote the scenario, while James Van Trees is responsible for the photography.

PRINCESS THEATRE Tomorrow, at the Princess Theatre, the Mildred Page Players will present "Rolling Stones," in which the entire cast will appear, and there will be everything required to make the play a real success. The one guessing nearest to the correct number of words spoken by Lee Jaxon in "The End of the Trail" last week, will receive $5 in cash as a prize tomorrow night, and the Captain Kidd contest is still on; the prize at this Saturday's matinee will be $25. Some lucky kiddie will be happy one of these Saturdays' so why not send that guess in soon? "Rolling Stones" has to its credit a long list of stock successes, and it was one of the biggest New York hits of recent years. The splendid plot has an original twist to it and the action develops speed until it reaches the big climax in the last act. Don't miss "Rolling Stones," beginning tomorrow night and continuing the rest of the week, with the usual Saturday matinee.

"LITTLE" THEATRE Have you been to see "Erminie"? No? Then to use the words of Cadeau, "stand not upon the order of your going but go at once" and book your seats or you'll be too late. In selecting "Erminie" for the opening of their Little Theatre, the V.D. and O.S. were actuated by a desire to give the Victoria public an opportunity of enjoying one of the most successful revivals of recent years. A glance at any New York paper will show the phenomenal success that De Wolf Hopper is scoring with this same tuneful opera. "Erminie" was written many years ago, long before the days of ragtime and jazz, and its melodies have therefore an old world lilt and fascination that is seldom found in more recent scores. That in making this selection the V.D. and O.S. has given the Victoria public what it likes is proved by the verdict of all who have seen "Erminie"—that this is the best yet. Seldom has Miss Eva Hart appeared to better advantage than in the title role, and she is supported by an excellent caste and chorus. For several night the sign "House Full" has appeared outside the Little Theatre and there is every indication that capacity houses will greet "Erminie" throughout her visit to Victoria. Seats may be booked at Kent's Edison Store, between the hours of 9 and 6 daily, and after 7 p.m. at the Little Theatre.

VARIETY THEATRE It was during the filming of one of the scenes in "The Mark of Zorro" that afforded Miss Mary Pickford, in private life Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, no end of amusement, and that her laughter, as well as those present, appeared almost uncontrollable. It all occurred one afternoon when she was at leisure and decided to view friend husband cut his capers before the camera, and thereupon chanced to see "Doug" as "Don Diego Vega," one of the characters in the story. As "Don Deigo" he made a slow exit from a palatial hacienda in an extremely lazy, indolent manner gaily arrayed and assisted by two servants in mounting a small harmless burro adorned with a silver bridle. And as one of the servants unfolds a parasol and hands it to him, the weary uninterested "Doug" ambled away. Here was a strong contrast to those antics always undergone by the strenuous "Doug." This scene furnishes many a laugh in "The Mark of Zorro," now playing at the Variety Theatre.

BAND MADE BIG HIT AT SEATTLE

G.W.V.A. Musical Organization Heartily Applauded in American City and Were Most Hospitably Treated

The G.W.V.A. band scored a big success on its visit to Seattle, and maintained its reputation as a "second-to-none" musical organisation in Western Canada. The engagement was for Sunday night at the Seattle Arena under Seattle Post 15 of the American Legion, the band performing with assisting artists. The band, under the able leadership of Bandmaster J. M. Miller, was in excellent form, and each rendering was most warmly applauded. Bandsman Davis having to give an encore after rendering his piccolo solo, "Silver Bird," which was more warmly applauded than any other item on the programme. The military tattoo also came in for much favorable comment.

The band left Victoria by the G.T.P. steamer Prince George and arrived in Seattle at 3:45, and were met by the various Seattle Posts and, headed by the pipe band of Seattle, marched through the streets to the Arena. The visitors were then taken on a sight-seeing tour of the city in automobiles, and this treat was augmented by a banquet extended by the Seattle Musicians' Union, who, according to the opinion of their guests, most certainly have nothing to learn in the way of administering hospitality.

This is one of the largest musical contracts filled by the city of Victoria. Comrade Axon received a check for $1,000 as a material reward for the day's effort.

With $1,000 in hand for one day's effort the supporters of the organization are inclined to laugh at the hesitancy of the City Council here to grant $1,500 for a Summer series of concerts, especially when it is considered that from present indications the band will shortly be wanted for some further important engagements across the line.

The Seattle programme was as follows:

"Star Spangled Banner"

VICTORIA'S CHARMS VIVIDLY DESCRIBED

Robert Shields in Manitoba Free Press

Victoria, the capital of British Columbia, is a city unique in many respects. She is the British naval base on the Pacific, and the first and last port of call for all ships passing in and out through the Straits of Juan de Fuca. While without doubt she is destined to become one of the greatest shipping centres on the whole Pacific Coast, at the same time, with her wonderful scenic settings, her beautiful gardens, her century-old oaks and firs, and her wide-spreading maples, she presents a gracious and old-fashioned simplicity of appearance which is most unusual in a busy commercial centre. Nowhere does one get quite away from the smell of the lilacs in the Spring or the fragrance of the roses in the Summer.

A Many-Acred Garden

Butchart's Gardens at the western extremity of the West Saanich road, about twelve miles from Victoria, and situated at the head of Saanich Arm, is one of the charming spots favored by tourists to Victoria during the Summer months. It covers many acres and is of a greatly diversified beauty, consisting of a Japanese garden, a rose garden, sloping stretches of green lawns, tea-houses, flower-garlanded pergolas, winding walks that lead the traveler past pretty waterfalls, across rustic bridges, and around scores of flower beds. But the most uniquely attractive part of all is that which has been made into what is termed the sunken gardens. These are situated in what was in reality a limestone quarry, but which has been transformed so as to wear the appearance of a fairy bower. Up the steep banks roses of all shades clamber, and down them, here and there, fall graceful cascades. Ferns grow everywhere. There is an artificial lake stocked with fish and crossed by a bridge where it is deepest, and stepping stones where it is shallow. There are flower beds full of gorgeous bloom.

Fine Residences

Charming residences at Oak Bay district in the neighborhood of the golf links, so much admired and loved by the residents of Victoria. The outlying environments and bathing places by the water's edge add to the beauties and charming places of Victoria. The millionaire Outhout's residence, built by Rogers, is one of the ideal residences and unique pleasure grounds adorned with the beauties and grandeur of Nature's charms. The street railway's genial and highly esteemed manager is well and favorably known to all the citizens and great appreciation is given to him for his efforts to develop the resources and expand the trade of Victoria. The business activity which was forced into new channels on account of the war, is once more running along normal lines, and is increasing rapidly. Prosperity is everywhere evident. There is a constant demand for homes and farm lands by prairie people and people from the Eastern part of Canada and the United States who are in search of a genial Winter climate.

The Great Telescope

The presence here of the largest telescope in the world demonstrates that Victoria is the most fortunately situated city in the Dominion of Canada climatically. She has the best "seeing" atmosphere, which means that there is absence of fog and that the temperature varies less than at any other point. The large amount of bright sunshine enjoyed is remarkable, the average being nearly six hours a day the whole year round.

Vancouver Island, to which Victoria is the gateway, is a fairyland of scenic wonders. Motor roads traverse hundreds of miles of lovely, diversified country leading one by lakes and streams and waterfalls; through miles of timber lands; up mountain roads and along the sea.

Apart from the scenic attractions of Victoria and Vancouver Island, the infinite resources in timber and minerals, the fishing, the limitless possibilities of agricultural development and fruit-growing, and the great increase in industriel development offer every inducement and opportunity to the homeseeker and investor.

Oil Is King

This oil motif is heard and anon in the national symphony. Wars have been fought over coal and iron beds. Why have France and Germany played battledore and shuttlecock with Alsace-Lorraine all these years? They are very pretty provinces with a great many sentimental attachments for both peoples, but underneath the green fields and the picturesque villages is iron ore! The world wags on. Oil is the centrifugal force now. It runs automobiles, locomotives, gasoline stoves, motor boats; it is a fluid precious beyond compare, protean in its manifestations and coveted everywhere. If coal is the great industrial mineral, oil is the great pleasure mineral; America is a pleasure-loving country. Argal, we must have oil.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

LADYSMITH MOOSE LODGE VERY ACTIVE

LADYSMITH, May 14.—Another class was added to Ladysmith Lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose on Friday evening, the 13th. No. 1459 has nearly 200 members. They are still forging ahead, as they are ambitious to reach 300, which would make them the strongest and biggest lodge on Vancouver Island. A large number of them are joining the Legion of Moose, and the next frolic of the Maple Leaf Legion will take place at Ladysmith in June, after the convention at Aberdeen, when fully 100 members of Ladysmith Lodge, L.O.O.M., 1459, are looking forward to the initiation. Members from all the Coast lodges are expected. Brother T. A. Sprucefield, past dictator, was elected to represent Ladysmith at the Aberdeen convention.

Ladysmith has been pretty lively this past week, as two American lightships with naval candidates on board have been lying in there coaling up, and the middies have been having lots of fun.

SAYS CEMETERY WILL NOT LAST ONE YEAR

Parks Superintendent Reports to Council That Only 635 Plots Remain at Ross Bay, Many of Them Undesirable

There are now 635 plots remaining at Ross Bay Cemetery, according to a report submitted to the City Council last night by Parks Superintendent Thomas Purdey, but of this number 219 are not drained during the wet season.

Mr. Purdey's report was regarded by some of the aldermen as convincing argument that Victoria must have a new cemetery this year, as there are approximately 600 deaths annually, and the report would indicate that Ross Bay Cemetery will be filled within a year, even if the undesirable property is used.

The report was referred to the inter-municipal committee, which at its next meeting will be asked to consider a new cemetery project submitted by Mr. C. Hiram Babcock, who suggests the use of property in Saanich municipality, opposite the residence of Mr. Joseph Bull, and comprising part of the holdings of Mr. George Rogers. Mr. Babcock says his proposal provides for the establishment, development and maintenance along the most modern lines with interest, sinking and perpetual upkeep funds provided for, without the expenditure by the ratepayers of a single dollar in cash, now or at any future period during the life of the burial park.

BIG ROLLING MILL ENGINE

What is claimed to be the most powerful rolling mill engine in the world is now in course of erection in a British steel works. It is intended to drive a train of 32-inch finishing rolls for large sections of steel. Some idea of the enormous size of the engine may be gained from the fact that the face of a man standing on the ground just comes to a level with the crank shaft, the engine being a vertical one. The maximum horse power developed is 75,000 at a speed of 140 revolutions per minute. There are three cylinders, each 45 inches in diameter and with a stroke of 42 inches. Joints up to 24 inches deep and 12 inches wide will be rolled in this mill. The makers have given a guarantee that this huge engine will be capable of reversing four times in one minute, and they are confident that the engine will do better than the guarantee. This rapidity of reversal, which is of great value in increasing output, is secured by a most ingenious system of valve gears. The engine is carried on a massive concrete foundation with an iron casting two feet deep—weighing over 100 tons—embedded in it. Small auxiliary engines are used to operate the reversing gear and also the stop valves.

ALD. AITKEN TO GET INFORMATION ASKED

Is Satisfied About Bridge Questions, But Wonders at Delay About Superannuation Query —Cost of Boulevards

Ald. A. M. Aitken's questions regarding labor conditions in connection with the Johnson Street bridge work failed to develop any excitement in the Council last night, as had been expected.

Acting Mayor Sangster told the alderman that some of his questions were indefinite, but that City Engineer F. M. Preston would answer them for him at any time.

Ald. Aitken was not so satisfied, however, about the questions he asked some time ago about the superannuation plan.

Ald. Sangster said that the departure of the Mayor might have resulted in delay, but the correspondence the alderman desired produced would soon be available. It was charged when the matter first came up that the Finance Committee of the Council had been secretly negotiating with Mr. McInnes.

As instructed by the Council last week, City Engineer F. M. Preston last night presented figures showing the comparative cost of maintaining the city boulevards in 1919 and 1920. The total labor cost in 1919 was $32,761.37, and in 1920, $34,009.15. The total material cost was $1,213.64 in 1919, and in 1920, $1,217.99, or a total of $33,975 in 1919, and $35,227.14 in 1920.

LIQUOR BOARD MAY GET WHARF ST. PREMISES

Warehouse of Messrs. Pither & Leiser May Be Secured—Liquor Can Be Shipped Parcels Post

Negotiations which have been under way for some time will probably be approved by the Executive Council at its session this morning, and the new Liquor Control Board be placed in possession of the warehouse premises of Messrs. Pither & Leiser, Wharf Street. The warehouse, one of the most modern of its type in Canada, would afford to the Board just the accommodation it requires for warehouse purposes, besides which, it is equipped for the particular purpose of a liquor warehouse and has an extensive bottling plant in connection therewith.

According to a communication received by Attorney-General Farris, liquor may be shipped to consumers within the Province by Parcels Post, provided the Province will enact legislation authorising such a method. This is the intimation forwarded by Hon. P. E. Blondin, Postmaster General.

Sometime ago announcement was made through the press that the federal postal authorities would permit shipments of liquor by parcels post, but no official notification of that fact was received by the Province until Hon. Mr. Blondin's communication was received here.

Yesterday Col. Winsby, member of the Liquor Control Board, who has been on a trip to the northern section of the Province, visiting Prince Rupert and points along the line of the G.T.P., returned to the city, as did also Mr. J. H. Falconer, who has been visiting points in the southern interior. They have been absent for the past two weeks looking over the territory with a view to selecting points at which warehouses shall be located, and other points where order stores will be opened up. Also, while at this work they interviewed various individuals with a view to ascertaining their fitness as officials at these points to carry on the local business of vending liquor for the Government. As yet no formal action has been taken towards leasing premises or appointing subordinate officials.

While the facilities afforded by the parcels post will render the task of shipping liquor to outside points much easier, the question of cost is an important one. By the new Act the Government will absorb all shipping charges upon hard liquor, though not on beer or other liquors. But if this is done it will mean a very large charge will be cast upon the Province. However, the act calls for it, and there does not appear to be any way to get around it.

STEAMERS TO SAIL FOR ALASKA TODAY

SEATTLE, May 16.—Passenger, freight and mail service to ports of southeastern and southwestern Alaska will be resumed tomorrow under orders issued by the United States Shipping Board.

The steamship Northwestern will sail tomorrow with the first mail for Alaska since the shipping strike started, and the Admiral Watson, which arrived from the north last night, will sail on the return trip Wednesday. The Northwestern was chartered by the Shipping Board to carry supplies to northern ports.

A complete crew has been signed for the Northwestern at the new Shipping Board scale, officials of the company said tonight. The new scale is 15 per cent below the old scale, and provides for payment for actual overtime. The crew of the Northwestern was signed under "open shop" conditions, company officials said.

Police Sergeant Drowned

CRESTON, B.C., May 16.—Sergeant A. Searle, in charge of the R. C. M. P. barracks, who came here recently from Lethbridge, was drowned Sunday when he attempted to ford Goat River, which is badly swollen by spring rains. Another constable had a narrow escape.

Ottawa Strike Settled

OTTAWA, May 16. — The Ottawa coal drivers' strike, which led to rioting here last week, has now been settled on a 50-50 basis.

Serve with Oatmeal

—To bring the rose tint to women's and children's cheeks.

—To increase men's energy and vim.

Do this, madam, for tomorrow's breakfast. Stew some raisins according to the recipe printed here, and mix with the oatmeal that you serve tomorrow morning.

Do it for the added flavor—to make oatmeal more attractive.

But do it mainly for the food-iron that raisins send into the blood, and for the raisin's mildly laxative effect.

The bloom of youth

The tonic food-iron of raisins helps to bring the bloom of youth to cheeks that perhaps are paler than they should be. Then the nutriment of raisins—1560 calories per pound—gives men and children the energy they need.

For regulating, tonic and nutritious properties combined, one can find no other food that's so effective. The luscious flavor makes it easy to serve stewed raisins frequently, so there's every argument in favor of their daily use.

Try it for a month and see. Look in your pantry now. Begin tomorrow.

Stewed Raisins

Cover Sun-Maid Raisins with cold water and add a slice of lemon or orange to each half pound. Place on fire; bring to a boil and allow to simmer for one hour. Sugar may be added, but is not necessary, as Sun-Maid Seeded Raisins contain 75% natural fruit sugar. Serve with or without cream.

Raisin Rice Pudding

½ cup Sun-Maid Seeded Raisins
1-3 cup rice
½ cup sugar
2 cups milk
1 cup water
2 eggs
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
(may omit)

Wash rice and place in double boiler with 1 cup water. Cook until water is absorbed. Add 2 cups milk, cook until rice is tender. To the remaining 1 cup milk add the sugar, spice and well-beaten eggs, combine with rice and raisins, pour into pudding dish, set in pan of hot water and bake until custard is set.

Raisin Pie

2 cups Sun-Maid Seeded Raisins
2 cups cold water
6 tablespoons corn starch
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind

Cover raisins with one cup water and bring slowly to boiling point. Mix corn starch, salt and sugar with remaining cup water and add to boiling raisins, stirring constantly. Allow to boil ten minutes. Add lemon juice and rind and pour into pastry lined pie pan. Cover with pastry. Put into very hot oven, decreasing the heat after ten minutes of baking. Bake until brown.

Raisin Salad

1 cup Sun-Maid Seeded Raisins
¼ cup lemon juice
3 cups chopped apples or pears
2 cups coarsely shredded lettuce
1 cup cream mayonnaise

Wash and dry the raisins, add to the apples and lemon juice. Line bowl or plates with shredded lettuce, pile raisins and apples in centre, cover with mayonnaise, serve with Neufchatel cheese balls and garnish too with small pieces of red, tart jelly. Shredded lettuce is a matter of taste. It will go farther and decorates better if shredded.

DESIRE SCHOOLS TO REVERT TO OLD TIME

Many Parents of Ward Six, Saanich, Anxious That Schools Assemble on Standard Time.

Saanich is still having its daylight saving troubles, insofar as the Saanich School Board is concerned. A large number of the parents of Ward Six are opposed to the new time, according to the remarks of Chairman Holloway, of the Saanich School Board, at a special meeting of that body last night.

Chairman Holloway said that the teacher in the West Road School was anxious to run the school on the old time because the teacher instructing the High School entrance pupils, taught them early in the morning. He also intimated that a vote of the parents had been taken through the students at that school, and a great majority of them were adverse to the adoption of new time in the schools.

Considerable discussion greeted the chairman's remarks, after which Trustee Thorne moved that any of the schools may continue to regulate on standard time, subject to the approval of the trustee in that district, however. This was unanimously adopted.

ORGAN RECITAL AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

"Request" Numbers Played by Mr. G. Jennings Burnett Were Most Enthusiastically Received

An organ recital of exceptional merit was presented last night at St. John's Church, when Mr. G. Jennings Burnett, organist, and Mrs. Wilson-Jones, soloist, assisted by the choir, charmed a large and enthusiastic audience with a programme which embraced six "request" numbers.

Of the appreciation accorded the artists the greatest ovations were given Mr. G. Jennings Burnett at the conclusion of the first movement to Widor's Fifth Symphony; Beethoven's Merch. Funebre Sulla Morte D'un Eroe; Kinder "In Springtime"; Organ Prelude in D Major, Prelude in E Minor (Burnett), Lemmens' The Strom Fantasia in E Minor, and Henri Browne's Finale in E Flat. Mrs. Wilson-Jones, although suffering from a severe cold and fever, which she contracted last Friday, arrived in town yesterday from Cowichan and kept her appointment at the recital rather than inflict disappointment at the last minute, was unable to do thorough justice to her magnificent voice, yet notwithstanding the cold Mrs. Wilson-Jones gave very fine renderings of her solos, the mobility of her expression being particularly good.

The choir was excellent, and showed good training in all its numbers with a nice balance and precision.

INDUSTRIAL GENEROSITY

The spirit in which British industrial concerns interpret their duty to their employees is exemplified by the action taken by two of the leading railway companies in connection with superannuation allowances for old servants. Owing to the change in the value of currency since the war, the original allowance had become inadequate and the companies voluntarily decided to increase the allowances to superannuated servants and also to improve the scale of benefits for those servants entitled to superannuation. This action is all the more striking, as the only fund at present available for such concessions is the dividend fund. The additional amounts, therefore, come out of the shareholders' pockets.

Employment of Returned Men

OTTAWA, May 14.—William Foran, secretary of the Civil Service Commission, was called by the special committee on the Spinney Civil Service Bill today. In answering questions by Col. J. A. Currie, he said that approximately 9,000 returned soldiers had been placed in permanent positions.

Sir Sam Hughes Gains Strength

OTTAWA, May 16.—The condition of Sir Sam Hughes is improved today following a second transfusion of blood. Should he maintain the improvement noted since last Friday, it is hoped that he will be able to go to Lindsay within two weeks.

Silver Blaze

PART ONE

"I am afraid, Watson, that I shall have to go," said Holmes, as we sat down together to our breakfast one morning.

"Go! Where to?"

"To Dartmoor; to King's Pyland."

I was not surprised. Indeed, my only wonder was that he had not already been mixed up in this extraordinary case, which was the one topic of conversation through the length and breadth of England. For a whole day my companion had rambled about the room with his chin upon his chest and his brows knitted, charging and recharging his pipe, with the strongest black tobacco, and absolutely deaf to any of my questions or remarks. Fresh editions of every paper had been sent up by our news agent, only to be glanced over and tossed down into a corner. Yet, silent as he was, I knew perfectly well what it was over which he was brooding. There was but one problem before the public which could challenge his powers of analysis, and that was the singular disappearance of the favorite for the Wessex Cup, and the tragic murder of its trainer. When, therefore, he suddenly announced his intention of setting out for the scene of the drama it was only what I had both expected and hoped for.

"I should be most happy to go down with you if I should not be in the way," said I.

"My dear Watson, you would confer a great favor upon me by coming. And I think that your time will not be misspent, for there are points about the case which promise to make it an absolutely unique one. We have, I think, just time to catch our train at Paddington, and I will go further into the matter upon our journey. You would oblige me by bringing with you your very excellent field-glass."

And so it happened that an hour or so later I found myself in the corner of a first-class carriage flying along on route for Exeter, while Sherlock Holmes, with his sharp, eager face framed in his ear-flapped travelling-cap, dipped rapidly into the bundle of fresh papers which he had procured at Paddington. We had left Reading far behind us before he threw the last one of them under the seat and offered me his cigar case.

"We are going well," said he, looking out of the window and glancing at his watch. "Our rate at present is fifty-three and a half miles an hour."

"I have not observed the quarter-mile posts," said I.

"Nor have I. But the telegraph posts upon this line are sixty yards apart, and the calculation is a simple one. I presume that you have looked into this matter of the murder of John Straker and the disappearance of Silver Blaze?"

"I have seen what The Telegraph and The Chronicle have to say."

"It is one of those cases where the art of the reasoner should be used rather for the sifting of details than for the acquiring of fresh evidence. The tragedy has been so uncommon, so complete, and of such personal importance to so many people, that we are suffering from a plethora of surmise, conjecture, and hypothesis. The difficulty is to detach the framework of fact—of absolute undeniable fact—from the embellishments of theorists and reports. Then, having established ourselves upon this sound basis, it is our duty to see what inferences may be drawn and what are the special points upon which the whole mystery turns. On Tuesday evening I received telegrams from both Colonel Ross, the owner of the horse, and from Inspector Gregory, who is looking after the case, inviting my co-operation."

"Tuesday evening!" I exclaimed. "And this is Thursday morning. Why didn't you go down yesterday?"

"Because I made a blunder, my dear Watson—which, I am afraid, is a more common occurrence than any one would think who only knew me through your memoirs. The fact is that I could not believe it possible that the most remarkable horse in England could long remain concealed, especially in so sparsely inhabited a place as the north of Dartmoor. From hour to hour yesterday I expected to hear that he had been found, and that his abductor was the murderer of John Straker. When, however, another morning had come, and I found that beyond the arrest of young Fitzroy Simpson, nothing had been done, I felt that it was time for me to take action. Yet in some ways I feel that yesterday has not been wasted."

"You have formed a theory, then?"

"At least I have got a grip of the essential facts of the case. I shall enumerate them to you, for nothing clears up a case so much as stating it to another person, and I can hardly expect your co-operation if I do not show you the position from which we start."

I lay back against the cushions, puffing at my cigar, while Holmes, leaning forward, with his long, thin forefinger checking off the points upon the palm of his left hand, gave me a sketch of the events which had led to our journey.

"Silver Blaze," said he, "is from the Somomy stock, and holds as brilliant a record as his famous ancestor. He is now in his fifth year, and has brought in turn each of the prizes of the turf to Colonel Ross, his fortunate owner. Up to the time of the catastrophe he was the first favorite for the Wessex Cup, the betting being three to one on him. He was always, however, been a prime favorite with the racing public, and has never yet disappointed them, so that even at those odds enormous sums of money have been laid upon him. It is obvious, therefore, that there were many people who had the strongest interest in preventing Silver Blaze from being there at the fall of the flag next Tuesday.

"The fact was, of course, appreciated at King's Pyland, where the Colonel's training stable is situated. Every precaution was taken to guard the favorite. The trainer, John Straker, is a retired jockey who rode in Colonel Ross' colors before he became too heavy for the weighing-chair. He has served the Colonel for five years as jockey and for seven as trainer, and has always shown himself to be a zealous and honest servant. Under him were three lads; for the establishment was a small one, containing only four horses in all. One of these lads sat up each night in the stable, while the others slept in the loft. All three bore excellent characters. John Straker, who is a married man, lived in a small villa about two hundred yards from the stables. He has no children, keeps one maid-servant, and is comfortably off. The country round is very lonely, but about half a mile to the north there is a small cluster of villas which have been built by a Tavistock contractor for the use of invalids and others who may wish to enjoy the pure Dartmoor air. Tavistock itself lies two miles to the west, while across the moor, also about two miles distant, is the larger training establishment of Mapleton, which belongs to Lord Blackwater, and is managed by Silas Brown. In every other direction the moor is a complete wilderness, inhabited only by a few roaming gypsies. Such was the general situation last Monday night when the catastrophe occurred.

"On that evening the horses had been exercised and watered as usual, and the stables were locked up at nine o'clock. Two of the lads walked up to the trainer's house, where they had supper in the kitchen, while the third, Ned Hunter, remained on guard. At a few minutes after nine the maid, Edith Baxter, carried down to the stables his supper, which consisted of a dish of curried mutton. She took no liquid, as there was a water tap in the stables, and it was the rule that the lad on duty should drink nothing else. The maid carried a lantern with her, as it was very dark and the path ran across the open moor.

"Edith Baxter was within thirty yards of the stables, when a man appeared out of the darkness and called to her to stop. As he stepped into the circle of yellow light thrown by the lantern she saw that he was a person of gentlemanly bearing, dressed in a gray suit of tweeds, with a cloth cap. He wore gaiters, and carried a heavy stick with a knob to it. She was most impressed, however, by the extreme pallor of his face and by the nervousness of his manner. His age, she thought, would be rather over thirty than under it.

"'Can you tell me where I am?' he asked. 'I had almost made up my mind to sleep on the moor, when I saw the light of your lantern.'

"'You are close to the Wing's Pyland training stables,' said she.

"'Oh, indeed! What a stroke of luck!' he cried. 'I understand that a stable boy sleeps there alone every night. Perhaps that is his supper which you are carrying to him. Now I am sure that you would not be too proud to earn the price of a new dress, would you?' He took a piece of white paper folded up out of his waistcoat pocket. 'See that the boy has this tonight, and you shall have the prettiest frock that money can buy.'

"She was frightened by the earnestness of his manner, and ran past him to the window through which she was accustomed to hand the meals. It was already opened, and Hunter was seated at the small table inside. She had begun to tell him of what had happened, when the stranger came up again.

"'Good evening,' said he, looking through the window. 'I wanted to have a word with you.' The girl has sworn that as he spoke she noticed the corner of the little paper packet protruding from his closed hand.

"'What business have you here?' asked the lad.

"'It's business that may put something into your pocket,' said the other. 'You've two horses in for the Wessex Cup—Silver Blaze and Bayard. Let me have the straight tip and you won't be a loser. Is it a fact that at the weights Bayard could give the other a hundred yards in five furlongs, and that the stable have put their money on him?'

"'So you're one of those damned touts!' cried the lad. 'I'll show you how we serve them in King's Pyland.' He sprang up and rushed across the stable to unloose the dog. The girl fled away to the house, but as she ran she looked back and saw that the stranger was leaning through the window. A minute later, however, when Hunter rushed out with the hound, he was gone, and though he ran all round the building he failed to find any trace of him."

TELLS HOW RAILWAYS HAVE HELPED CITY

Mr. C. P. W. Schwengers Describes Concessions Made to Assist Island Industries—Explains Evolution of Rates

Declaring that Victoria's destiny as a manufacturing and distributing centre depended upon the continued co-operation of the transcontinental railway systems, Mr. C. P. W. Schwengers, chairman of the Railway Freights Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, warned the directors of that organization yesterday against taking any unnecessary action that might be regarded as unfriendly towards the transportation companies.

Mr. Schwengers gave a general talk on the subject of freight rates, particularly in their reference to Victoria, and how the present complex tariffs had been built up from simple beginnings.

The question of whether the Chamber should support the Armstrong bill, proposing railway board authority over coast steamship lines, arose, but action was deferred until a subsequent meeting, both sides being represented in the discussion that took place.

"I have come to the conclusion," said Mr. Schwengers, "that it is impossible to get down to the bottom of the railway freights question. The average man in the street considers the question as an abstract issue that does not directly concern him, but I know of no single element that affects every one of us so vitally as railway freight rates. The cost you pay for your meals and for the clothes you wear, for almost everything that is subject to a person's purchasing power, is determined in a more or less direct sense by the railway freight charges placed upon the commodities entering into the goods purchased.

To Protect Industries

"There are many reasons why everyone should be interested in the question of freight rates, and it is an unfortunate thing that there is so much misunderstanding as to even the elementary and fundamental bases of the rates," continued Mr. Schwengers. "The general feeling appeared to be that the railways are charging the maximum rate that the items can stand. That is true in a way, but not in the way that most people suppose. Rates have been built up according to gradual changing conditions. The nature and bulk of goods and the cost of handling them have affected rates, and competition has had a very important bearing, too. Commodity rates have been established almost entirely on the element of competition. Suppose an industry is started in Medicine Hat which wishes to compete with plants operating, say, in the Southern States. It makes application for special commodity rates, and the railway may make this concession with the single motive of protecting the Canadian industry by placing it on an equal basis with the American concerns so that it will not be at a disadvantage in cost of materials, so far as rail delivery and distribution are concerned. In this way railway tariffs have been built up into a finely balanced whole, placing every section of the country on a more or less equal basis in many vital respects, and in that way the rates may be described as the maximum that can be charged.

Blame Misdirected

"The whole tendency in regard to commodity rates is always downward, and for that reason the railways must authorize advances from time to time to offset to some extent that difference. The blame for these advances is often misdirected, and I personally know of two recent instances where the C. P. R. cut rates in half to enable a Canadian industry to hold its own. I have always found the railways willing to go half way, or even more, to safeguard industries."

Speaking of Victoria's relationship to the freight rates question, Mr. Schwengers stated that the position of this city had no parallel on the continent. The situation was and always had been a very delicate one. There was water competition here that must be met by the railways, but Victoria did not share the conditions that had gone towards building up such cities as Seattle, Portland and San Francisco as railway distributing centres, with special rates to points within a certain radius.

Mr. Schwengers pointed out that Victoria was on the same basis as Vancouver in respect to terminal rates over the C. P. R. and Canadian National Railways, but this was a concession brought about many years ago, and on which achievement many vested interests had been built up in this city. It might be stated that Victoria's status as an industrial and distribution centre rested upon the continued friendship of the railroads, for whose generous treatment there should be genuine appreciation.

Mr. Schwengers issued a warning against the danger of encouraging a revival of old controversies in Victoria. He pointed out that cities such as Winnipeg could go before the Railway Board and practically insist on certain concessions from a purely geographical standpoint. Victoria could not do that so well.

Steamship Services

Mr. Schwengers, referring to the coastwise steamship service, said that the schedules had been so changed in recent years that Victoria's advantages as a distributing port for this trade had been undermined to a serious extent, and he suggested that control of the steamships by the Railway Board would assist Victoria by introducing a more equable rate system.

Mr. George I. Warren held that the question was very contentious, and moved that any consideration of the Armstrong bill, proposing what Mr. Schwengers had suggested, should be held over. He stated that the legislation, if adopted, would apply to practically every class of boat, even the small steamers operated by cement and cannery companies.

"I wouldn't oppose it," stated Capt. Georga McGregor, who operates a fleet of tugs out of Victoria. "It's the very thing we have been looking for. It would bring about a uniform rate."

It was decided to take the matter up at a future meeting.

QUEEN CONTEST WILL BE ANNUAL EVENT

Coronation Ceremonies of Her Majesty Announced — Will Superintend Activities — Contest Closes on Friday

The Queen of the Carnival Contest, which is at present attracting considerable interest, will be an annual event, and the proceeds each year will be devoted to some worthy charitable organization. The lady elected on May 20 will hold office until the next annual ceremony. However, she will be unable to enter the contest again, but will always assist in the annual coronation ceremonies.

Arrangements of the official programme of the Queen during the celebrations have been announced. Her Majesty will attend the School Sports which will be held at the Willows on the afternoon of May 23, and a box will be reserved for her party. She will be present at the Choral Society Concert and Community Sing in the evening on the Parliament Building steps, where she will occupy a place of honor.

Her Majesty will head the procession through the principal thoroughfares of the city on the 24th of May, and the parade will halt at the Parliament Buildings. The Queen, accompanied by her two maids of honor, page, herald, master of ceremonies, and other officials, will alight from her carriage and take her seat on the coronation throne on the Parliament steps. Her Majesty will be attired in her robe of rich laced, with a full court train of purple velvet trimmed with gold. The heralds will blow a blast which will announce the commencement of the official ceremonies.

Lunch at Empress

At the end of the coronation ceremonies, which form the principal part of the morning's programme, an official luncheon will be held at the Empress Hotel, to which the Administrator of the Province and other prominent officials have been invited. At this affair the Queen will be presented with a handsome diamond ring and a La Tosca necklace, with which she will be suitably rewarded for her success in winning the carnival contest.

In the afternoon Her Majesty will proceed in state by motor to the Gorge, where from a commanding position she will witness the regatta. The Queen will attend the carnival ball which will be held in the evening at the Empress Hotel. She will proceed across the ballroom accompanied by her official party at the commencement of the function and will occupy her seat on the throne.

The Queen of the Carnival Contest is this year being conducted by the Students' Welfare League of British Columbia, and the proceeds are being devoted towards the proposal of planting trees on Memorial Avenue in commemoration of the sacrifices made by those former students of the Victoria High School who gave their lives in the Great War.

Four candidates are working hard for the Empire Day honor. They are Miss Dorothy Eversfield, Miss Mildred Redmond, Miss Jessie Chapman and Miss Agnes Wallace. The contest closes at 6 o'clock on Friday evening, May 20, and the lady receiving the largest number of votes will be elected Queen, and the two ladies receiving the next largest number of votes will be the Queen's maids of honor.

In view of the worthy object for which the proceeds are to be devoted, it is expected that in the few remaining days a large number of persons will obtain ballots and vote for one of the candidates, in order that the queen may be elected by as representative a vote as possible.

In New York city the number of horses has been decreased in the past three years from 103,000 to 75,000.

RED CROSS APPEAL FOR GOOD HEALTH

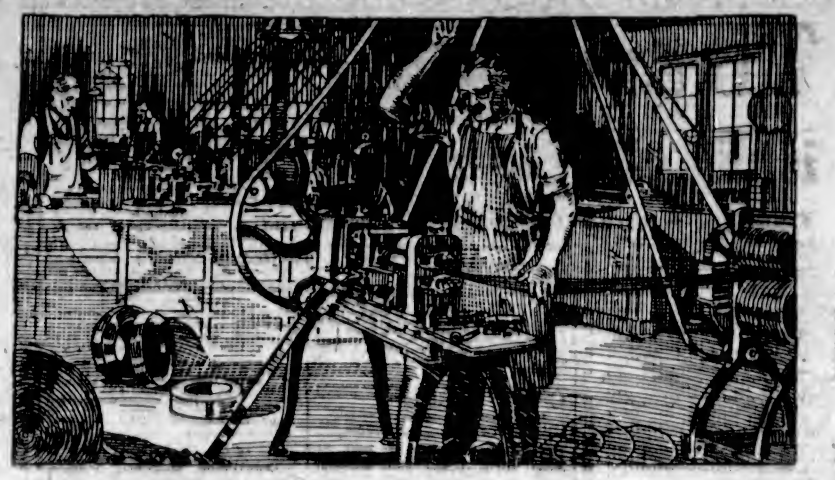

Knowledge Is Essential to Attain and Maintain the Physical Well-Being of Community

An essential part of any national health policy is the instruction in the principles and practice of hygiene of the great mass of the people. In this, as in other spheres of human affairs, ignorance is the chief curse. We are only now, as knowledge grows, becoming aware of the immeasurable part played by ignorance in the realms of disease. It is hardly too much to say that in proportion as knowledge spreads in a population disease and incapacity decline, and this becomes more evident as the gross forms of world-wide disease are overcome. As in the individual, so in the community, knowledge is the sheet anchor of preventive medicine, knowledge of the way of health, knowledge of the causes and channels of disease, knowledge of remedy.

Every child born in Canada should have an opportunity of starting life in sound physical health, of growing to maturity in and through the healthful exercise of its powers, and then of continuing to live in good health under wholesome conditions until the full course of life is run. Towards that end the Red Cross calls upon all intelligent men and women to join the Crusade for Good Health and so help the Red Cross, which can do more for the country in peace than it was able to accomplish in war.

WALTHAM THE SCIENTIFICALLY BUILT WATCH

Made in Canada

Literature on request

House of Waltham 189 St. James St. Montreal

"COLONIAL" Ask your jeweler to show you this thin model.

The Main Spring

THE mainspring is the power of a watch. It is a piece of specially hardened and tempered steel, about twenty inches long, coiled in a barrel between the upper and lower plates of the movement. It is subjected to varying conditions of service in temperature and tension. The variation in thickness of two one-thousandths of an inch, or lack of uniformity in hardening, and tempering will decide the time-keeping quality of your watch.

The Waltham Watch Company produces fourteen tons of mainsprings every year. It is the largest mainspring maker in the world. The Waltham mainspring is cut from long rolls of steel of uniform and special quality, then tempered in resilient form by a secret process, and is placed in the watch coiled into a hardened and tempered steel barrel. This is exclusively a Waltham practice.

An inferior mainspring means an inferior watch—no matter how much you pay for it.

The uniform superiority of the Waltham mainspring is one of the reasons why the horological experts of the leading nations of five continents chose Waltham in preference to watches of any other make.

THREE THOUSAND CASH

IS a lot of money these days. That is exactly the amount a customer of ours has waiting to put into a house that suits him. He wants a four or five-room fully modern bungalow, with a basement, on an average lot in a nice locality WITHIN THE MILE CIRCLE. We have asked for this under "Wanted to Buy Houses" for a week now, and have got absolutely nothing we can submit to him. Surely there must be someone with a house they would like to sell that would comply with above requirements, say in James Bay, Fernwood, Fairfield or near the North Park.

We are not after listings; all we want is the right house for this particular customer. Let us know immediately, and a representative will view the house.

FOCH'S OPINION OF GERMAN GENERALSHIP

Marshal Foch has no high opinion of German generalship, and one would suppose that nobody living knew more about it, says a writer in The Toronto Mail and Empire. If the great soldier were a vain man he might represent the German leaders as geniuses who could be overthrown only by super-geniuses, and naturally his name would occur as the most super of the super-geniuses. But it is well known that he is modest. Foch has read the memoirs of the German generals which have been published since the war, and nearly every German general of any note has offered his alibi. Particularly has he dwelt upon the apologia of Ludendorff, and a short time ago he gave an interview to a French military writer on this subject. The writer is Captain Raymond Recouly, who achieved fame as a writer on the war under the name of Captain X, and the interview has been published in La Revue de France, a new magazine. The chief trouble with Ludendorff, according to Foch, was that he made his plans without taking account of the next day. We gather that this means that Ludendorff lacked imagination.

Ludendorff's Limitations

Ludendorff was an excellent staff officer. There was none better. He was unexcelled in everything that had to do with the organization and management of armies. He failed as a great leader because he failed to understand a really national war in which every Frenchman and every German, to say nothing of the other nations, was engaged—a war in which women and children helped. In the old-fashioned crinoline war which was fought by an insignificant minority of the population called professional soldiers, Ludendorff would have been a star performer. He took no account of moral force. Says Foch: "Ludendorff continually turns to his government. He overwhelms it with protests and recriminations. He constantly demands more soldiers, more discipline; failing to realize that the Government, because of the internal crisis, the apathy of the people and the growing discouragement, is powerless to give these things to him. The country is tired of war; the country has had enough of it."

Not a Napoleon

The Marshal points out that conditions were exactly reversed in 1814 when the Prussians were fighting against Napoleon. In those days the German generals, Blucher, York, Zieten, Kleist burned with a sacred fire. Some among them, says he, notably Blucher, were far from being men of military genius. They had small intelligence, "but the internal flame animating them was a substitute for everything. It triumphed over the genius of Napoleon, over the slowness, hesitation and opposition of the Austrian and Russian allies." In the Great War this ardor and confidence in victory were on the side of the Allies. The Allies knew they would win because they had to win, like the Mark Twain rabbit that had to climb a tree to escape the pursuing hound. The Marshal pays tribute to the courage of the Allied soldiers. Even toward the end, when they had no idea how close they were to victory, they followed with blind trust the orders of their generals. They had fought as long as the Germans, but their morale was as high as ever it had been.

Ludendorff's Failure

In 1918, this holy ardor was absent from the German army as it was absent from the German nation, Foch says: "What the Emperor-cult amounted to was shown the day the Emperor collapsed and took shamefully to flight, abandoning his headquarters and his routed troops." In short, the Germans could not stand the gaff. So long as they were winning they looked like champions. To vary the simile culled from the cockpit to one garnered from the light harness horse, the Germans could not stand grief. Ludendorff apparently did not understand his countrymen. He appeals to the government when what he appeals for is impossible. He does not grasp the state of mind of the German people. His brain is too mathematical. His ignorance is contrasted with the understanding of Napoleon in 1814, when he realized that the levee en masse was impossible though it was possible in 1793, and that its impossibility spelt his doom.

What Might Have Been

So far as planning his attacks even in the last year of the war is concerned, Ludendorff did superlatively well. They could not have been planned better if one were looking merely to the day of the attack. Ludendorff, unlike the chess master, did not take account of what the situation would be after his attacks had been made, even if they were successful. He attacked on Monday, and did not understand what the situation on Wednesday would be until noon on Wednesday. Marshal Foch is of the opinion that while ultimate victory for the Germans was impossible, the war might have been prolonged had Ludendorff displayed more courage. If toward the middle of August, 1918, he had fallen back to the Meuse he might have made the Allies fight through that year and through part of 1919. He stood because he did not wish to risk the loss of war material. Instead he sacrificed the best of his remaining troops. He made another blunder in the great offensive of 1918, in which one British army was destroyed. He had a chance there to capture Amiens and divide the British and French armies. He chose to pour his troops into the gap after the Fifth British army, and his success remained local, whereas it might well have been general.

MARKET DEPRESSED IN EARLIER HOURS

Heavy Selling on Both Accounts Sends Prices Down —Covering by Shorts Starts Sharp Rally Near Close

NEW YORK, May 16.—Selling stock for both accounts, principally the short interest, was resumed in moderate volume today. It continued until the final hour, when a covering movement cancelled many losses and effected a few substantial gains. Early recessions ran from 1 to 6 points in the prominent meiorrk, as well as steels, equipments, shippings, metal and food shares. Low-priced oils were under constant fire, due in part to rumors affecting the minor fcolation.

The belated recovery was guided by Mexican Petroleum, International Paper and some of the oils, as well as motors and investment rails at actual gains of 1 to 3 points. It occurred in the face of a rise in call money from 6½ to 7 per cent.

Sales amounted to 700,000 shares.

The principal foreign exchange remittances reflected the tense character resulting from the Silesian controversy. Sterling eased slightly.

Dealings in bonds were more active than in stocks and of a more general character, t ough the tone was equally uncertain. Total sales, $11,455,000.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET

WINNIPEG, May 16.—The lightness in the May wheat future was again in evidence today, when unexpected strength developed, and prices advanced 2¾ cents from the previous close, which was followed with a little reaction during the latter part of the session. At the high of the day May was quoted at 135⅝, and at the gong 134¼, a gain of 5¼ cents from Saturday, July closed 5¼ cents higher and October unchanged.

With the future advancing to 135 there were liberal offerings in the cash wheat market, and considerable wheat changed hands around 130, sufficient to satisfy the immediate demand, which soon fell off. Premiums lowered to 4 and 1 cent over the May for Nos. 1 and 2 northern, while No. 3 northern was at a discount of 6¾ cents under the May.

There was not much change in the cash coarse grain situation.

Futures were working higher in sympathy with wheat. Oats closed ¼ cent higher to unchanged; barley ⅛ cent higher; flax 1 to ⅝ cent lower, and rye unchanged.

The Manchester Guardian Celebrates Centenary

The Manchester Guardian attained its centenary on the 5th of May. One hundred years ago the revolutionary changes wrought in England by the great mechanical inventions were well on their way, and the expansion which was to make Manchester, the industrial metropolis of England had begun. Politically also the city was already important. It was foremost in the long struggle for parliamentary reform, which, starting along with the American Revolution, was to culminate in the historic Reform Act of 1832.

The Manchester Guardian was a direct product of this national agitation for popular rights. Its first number, May 5, 1821, issued just as Napoleon was passing from the world, was a modest four-page weekly, sold at sevenpence—a high price made necessary by the imposts on paper and advertisements, which were denounced by the reformers of that day as the taxes on knowledge.

The founder of the Manchester Guardian was John Edward Taylor, a fine and courageous citizen of Manchester. With him was associated Jeremiah Garnett, as printer, business manager and sole reporter. Garnett wrote a rough stenography of his own invention, or, with equal ease, he composed his own copy at the case. In 1836 the paper became a bi-weekly; and in 1855, when Gladstone began the repeal of the taxes on knowledge, it entered upon its career as a penny daily. Seven years before this its ownership had passed to the founder's son, John Edward Taylor II, who during a long life enjoyed the good fortune of seeing The Manchester Guardian mount to its position of acknowledged leadership in English journalism.

Fifty Years as Editor

For close upon fifty years The Manchester Guardian has been under the single editorial direction of its present proprietor-editor, Charles Prestwich Scott, who was appointed to the chair in 1872, three years after graduating, with first-class honors in Classics, at Oxford University. Still vigorous and fully active in his 76th year, C. P. Scott is a native of Bath, in the West of England. For twelve years (1895-1906) he sat in Parliament as Liberal member for a Lancashire constituency. And thirteen years ago, shortly after the death of the second John Edward Taylor, Mr. Scott added to his power as editor the authority of governing proprietor.

During its first half-century of steady growth, before the advent of the present editor, The Manchester Guardian was known as a leading organ of Liberalism which, in the epoch of Cobden, Bright and Gladstone, became the controlling force of England. Mr. Scott continued and enriched that tradition. Under his direction The Guardian gave firm, but wholly independent, support to the Liberal policies which for so long a term of years bore the Gladstonian stamp. It stood for free nationality in the Balkans against the dissolving Turkish power, and attacked the adventurous Imperialism of Disraeli in the East, as, twenty years later, it opposed that of Joseph Chamberlain in Africa. In the middle eightiee it came out boldly, with Gladstone, for Irish self-government. And it was able, by its unwavering adherence to principle, to ride triumphantly through the two storms which shook British Liberalism to the foundations—the Home Rule secession of 1886 and the Boer War of 1899-1902. In domestic concerns The Guardian has stood for a conception of Liberalism wider, and, it is believed, deeper than that which satisfied the Victorians, while in Imperial affairs it has been identified with those aims which today are recognized by reasonable people everywhere, and especially throughout the English-speaking world, as the only basis for an enduring British commonwealth of nations.

Literary Character

The character of a newspaper is, of course, mainly determined by the degree in which its directing mind is reflected through the staff. More than forty years ago Mr. Scott secured the services of William Thomas Arnold, a grandson of Arnold of Rugby and brother of Mrs. Humphry Ward, one of the ablest of contemporary English journalists. It was largely with Arnold's assistance that the editor was enabled to develop the distinctive characteristics of The Manchester Guardian, notably its all-round survey of politics, social and intellectual affairs, and (a special feature which newspaper men throughout the world have recognised) its endeavor to bring the standards of literary excellence into all departments of the paper, including not least those devoted to local news and to sport.

Secrets of Success

As elements contributing to the building up of The Manchester Guardian's position and success five things in particular may be noted: (1) The extreme care devoted to its editorial columns, filled by a succession of editorial writers unsurpassed in England; (2) the range and authority of its special correspondence, alike in war and in peace; (3) its realisation of the fact that a newspaper published in a great commercial capital must satisfy the most exacting demands in regard to its market and financial pages; (4) the quality of its official and political news, gathered from the sources by its London staff; (5) its acceptance and constant enforcement of the view that the business of a newspaper is to give a full and trustworthy supply of news, while the task of the publicist is to analyse and interpret that news—from the strong ground of political and social principle and in constant recognition of the truth that, in a world of free citizenship, all things of public concern must be open to discussion; or, to adapt a sound old American phrase, that all men, events and opinions have the right to their day in the court of public opinion.

If the editor, looking back upon the record of his paper for a century, could express in a sentence the conception of journalistic faith for which The Manchester Guardian has stood, he might be content to say just that: the right of the citizen to know the facts of the world, and to be given such help in understanding them as a free and responsible journal can provide.

WIDE ACTIVITIES OF SCOUT MOVEMENT

By Anon

It is not surprising that people who live in outposts of the Empire should be inclined to get out of touch with the rest of it. So it is in Scouting circles. There is little Scout literature to read, and consequently members are not well informed of the doings of other scouts elsewhere. The real centre of the movement is, with little doubt, the "Headquarters Gazette," and all who are interested in any way should take it in. It is obtainable from the headquarters, 25 Buckingham Palace Road, London, S.W. 1, and the subscription is 4s. per year post free. It pays for that amount over and over again. It is just full from cover to cover with the "Spirit of Scouting." Those who do not know what that is, the "Gazette" will explain better and quicker than anything else can.

Last year was a red-letter year in the history of the movement. The great event was the "Jamboree." The very word speaks of something out of the ordinary. A new phenomenon requires a new word to express it, and even if there is no definition for it yet in the English Dictionary it will not be long before there will be one.

A "Jamboree"

While the whole world was busy fighting, a few far-seeing men formulated a scheme whereby it was arranged that scouts from the whole world should collect for a big rally, which should take place as soon after the war as possible. One problem that arose was what to call it. However, there is seldom a difficulty without someone to solve it, and so some ingenious person invented the word Jamboree.

The affair took place in the Olympia in London last July and surpassed all expectations. No less than twenty-six different nations were represented, including boys from all parts of the British Empire (North and South Ireland included), America, France, Spain, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Italy, Belgium, Serbia, Greece, China and elsewhere. London was taken by storm, not by an armed force but by thousands of happy-faced boys—a young League of Nations. All joined together in work, play and service, and all returned to their homes feeling that they were but a small part of a great brotherhood working under one ideal. The London papers were not behindhand in their comments on the movement. This extract from The Timee is worthy of careful study:

"At the close of the great Jamboree at Olympia on Saturday night, Boy Scouts, representing twenty-six nations, acclaimed Sir Robert Baden-Powell Chief Scout of the World. Well did he deserve it, for through him a great gift has come to the boys of Great Britain, and from them has spread to the boys of all nations. It is to be remembered that there is a deep and true philosophy behind the pageantry and ordered enthusiasm of the Boy Scout movement. Not so long ago it was believed that the games and high spirits of children and young animals were a mere spilling over of surplus energy. They were regarded as a by-product of life and that was wasteful if not harmful. We know now that in the stern economy of nature the exuberance of youth is turned into preparation for adult life. Young animals instinctively exercise in youth the faculties by which they will have to maintain existence. The kids of mountain-dwelling animals practice standing jumps, those denizens of the plains practice long jumps. The kittens of carnivores pursue the tail of their mother, or practice on inanimate objects, the dexterities of eye and claw that they will require for a living prey. The natural instinct of boys and girls have the same purposive basis, but the Gradgrinds of the Victorian age tried to repress them and to replace them by monotonous acquirements of knowledge. The Boy Scout movement as conceived and directed by Sir Robert Baden-Powell, is a return to natural education. It aims at drawing out of the boys the best that is in them instead of drilling knowledge into them. They learn in camps and marches that their health and comfort depend on themselves. The use of tools, adaptation of means to ends, the improvisation that conquers unimportant emergencies, are all acquired as a pleasure, and lie ready for the real difficulties of adult life. Self-help and service for others become complementary. Individualism is trained, but finds its greater advantage as a contribution to the common good. We rejoice that the success of the first great Jamboree has given fresh vigor to the Boy Scout movement."

One of the results of the Jamboree has been the publication of a journal by that name in four different languages. It is brought out every quarter, and so far has a larger circulation than was expected. There is a great probability of two more languages being added to it.

Funds Collected

The Prince of Wales has organized a fund which is to raise £200,000 to endow the London Headquarters in order that the work may not be hampered in its expansion. A large portion of this sum has been already donated.

A party of English Scouts went on a trek camp last Summer in the Pyrenees Mountains (between France and Spain), this camp was such a success that another is being arranged this year, which is to take place in Switzerland. The Scouts of the Duchy of Luxembourg have extended an open invitation to scouts of other countries to go and camp in their little country.

The chief has just returned to the Old Country from his tour in India. It appears to have been most successful, and it seems that the movement there is quite strong, both among the white boys and the natives. His object in visiting the country was, to use his own simile, to gather the harvest which had sprung up as a result of the scattering of seeds by the wind. A full report of his trip is not yet available.

There are two outstanding features to be noticed, firstly, the remarkable strides that are being made everywhere, and, secondly, the great increase in the spirit of world-wide brotherhood resulting from last year's activities. What othere are doing elsewhere can be done here in a small way. It is the individuals that form the whole, and we must not be behind in any way. Everything is advancing, let us go too. It may be that the little extra weight will be the deciding factor.

The Jamboree! The Jamboree! What does it mean to you and me? It means a vow, a pledge, a pact, To love, to serve, to think, to act: It means a league of boys—and thee, A world-wide league of full-grown men.

TESTING CRANK SHAFTS

When an engine is built, one of the items to be tested is whether the crank shaft is in strict alignment, and in order to ensure the satisfactory running of the engine, tests with a similar object should be made periodically. A British engineering firm recently introduced a new instrument for making such tests accurately and rapidly. It consist of a dial divided into thousandths of an inch and a pointer actuated by a plunger which juts out at the top of the dial. Flanking this plunger are two spring plungers: the dial is carried on a column which screws into a base. The apparatus is used—in a manner which cannot be described without technical details—to measure the distance between the inner faces of the crank balance weights or of the outer ends of the crank webs, first when the shaft is in one position and next when it has been moved through half a revolution. If the pointer shows a movement to one side or the other, it proves that the alignment is not perfect. This instrument is made either non-adjustable, for only one size of crank shaft, or adjustable for any sizes in which the distance between the web is not less than 4½ inches or more than 9½ inches. It can be used for either horizontal or vertical engines.

John Brady, selected from an orphanage by Judge John Green, of Tipton, Indiana, as the raggedest and ugliest boy, later became governor-general of Alaska.
